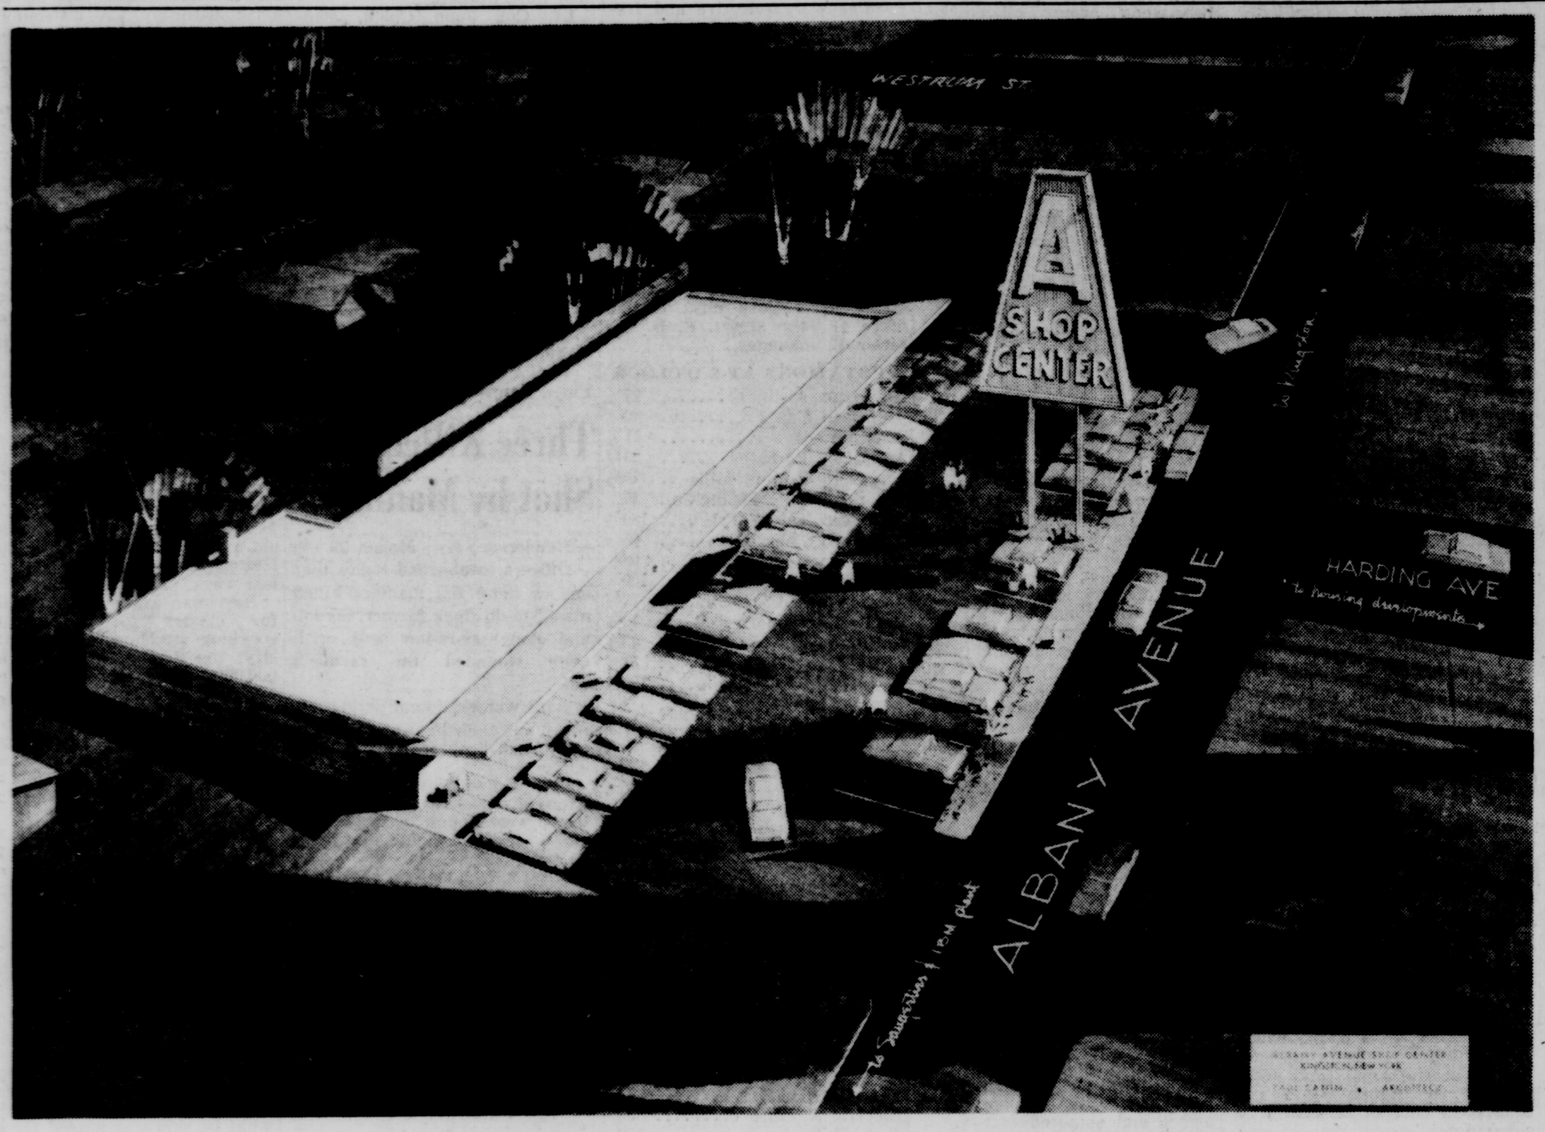
Talk With Reds Is Months Away, Dulles Reports



ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of the handsome modern Albany Avenue Shop Center, bids for which will be asked in the near future. The center, which will have a 200-foot frontage and contain at least six stores, will be located on Albany avenue about half a block north of the Grand Union. The architect is Paul Canin of Poughkeepsie.

Gas Tax Boost To Go to Voters

Harriman, GOP Majority Agree On Highway Program; Hike 2 Cents

Albany, March 29 (AP)—New Yorkers today were virtually assured of the opportunity to decide for themselves whether the state's gasoline tax should be increased by two cents a gallon next Jan. 1.

Bills that would increase the gas tax and levy an additional impost of three cents a gallon on diesel fuel were up for final legislative approval in the Senate.

The measures provide, however, that the tax increases would become effective only if the voters, in a referendum next November, approved a 750-million-dollar bond issue for highway improvement.

The bond proposal, for which a constitutional amendment is needed, also was on the Senate agenda.

GOV. HARRIMAN and the Republican majorities in the Legislature are in agreement on the highway program. The Democratic governor was expected to sign the tax measures, which would cost motorists an estimated $61,900,000 a year. His signature is not required on a proposed constitutional amendment.

Today's development came in the wake of a report by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads that New York needed an estimated $6,427,000,000 in public road construction through 1964.

The bureau reported yesterday that the state's estimated cost for its part in a planned $23,253,000,000 interstate highway system would be about $1,336,000,000. Approximately 638 million dollars would go for rural and 698 million for urban roads.

THE PROPOSED fuel-tax increases would raise the state's tax on gasoline from four to six cents a gallon and that on diesel oil from six to nine cents. There is a two-cent federal tax on each.

The Senate also had under consideration a bill that would postpone until July 1, 1956, the start of compulsory semi-annual

Quick Okay Is Sought On Treaties

Dulles Says They Bring Security

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today urged prompt Senate approval of treaties to rearm a sovereign West Germany. He said they "lay the basis for a new Europe."

Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the two treaties bring about a unity and security in Europe for which the United States has long hoped.

"Western Europe, long the cradle of western civilization and of Christianity has now what is probably its last chance to survive as a place in human welfare," Dulles said. "That last chance is embodied in the documents before you."

BEFORE DULLES' appearance as a committee witness on the pacts, Sen. Sparkman (D.-Ala.) said the Eisenhower administration should "supply all the materials possible" for a rapid buildup of the 12 division German Army.

Sen. George (D.-Ga.), committee chairman, forecast that the pacts might be ready for anticipated Senate approval late this week. No House action is required.

The Senate has delayed acting on the agreements until final action by Germany and France. The Parliaments of both have now approved the pacts.

ESTIMATES OF the time required for the West German republic to construct a fully equipped force to take its place within NATO's defense system vary from three to four years.

Sparkman, a foreign relations committeman, said in an interview:

"The big problem in building a German army is that they will be starting from scratch. They'll have to start training privates, then platoons, then companies and on up to divisions. They have nothing today."

He added that the same will

Churchill: Chances Is Brighter

Still Is in Favor Of Top Conference

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that any top-level conference with Russia is almost certainly "months" away.

Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee it is definitely the policy of President Eisenhower to pursue the possibility of a big power conference once preliminary discussions on a lower level are out of the way.

He was before the committee to ask the Senate's speedy consent to ratification of the German rearmament treaties.

THOSE TREATIES, he said, should create "conditions" which he hoped would "lead to a solution of other European problems."

Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.) asked Dulles whether a "Big Four meeting" might be in line with the policy of the United States at this time.

Dulles said it was very difficult to put a "calendar date" on exactly when such a conference might occur. He apparently referred to meetings of the heads of state, not a lower level parley.

HE SAID IT IS the "general desire" of Eisenhower and of Great Britain, France and the West German republic "to find out whether in the light of the new situation" there can be substantial progress from any meeting with Russia's leaders.

He said West Germany, whose sovereignty would be returned to it under one of the treaties now before the Senate, would naturally have to participate in any conference looking to unification of all Germany.

He took exception, thus, to Humphrey's use of the words "Big Four."

Prospects Are Held to Be Brighter

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today prospects of a four-power parley seem to have brightened lately. He added he still favors a conference at the summit "but so far heads of government have not agreed to this method."

The 80-year-old prime minister made the statement in the House of Commons.

Amid laughter, he dodged the question of a Laborite who wanted to know if top level talks can be arranged soon enough to enable him to participate in them personally as Britain's leader. There are reports Churchill plans to retire soon.

THE FUTURE," Churchill said, "is veiled in obscurity, and I should not like to plunge too deeply into it this afternoon."

There have been reports that Churchill intends to give up leadership of the Conservative government this spring in favor of his successor-designate, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Churchill himself has given no public clue he intends to go.

Churchill told the House of Commons the international situation certainly "seems to have taken a friendly turn lately." He added:

'I have never departed in any way from my view that a top-level meeting, without an agenda, might be a helpful manner of approaching the solution of these world problems. There might be a better chance of success if the initiative (for such a conference) came from the summit but so far the heads of governments have not agreed to this method."

Unions Are To Make Up Huge Fund

So Says Reuther Regarding Strikes

Cleveland, March 29 (AP)—Walter Reuther says labor unions eventually will establish a huge common strike fund but he expects to ask no outside money aid for 1955 auto industry bargaining.

Reuther told the 3,000 delegates to the CIO United Auto Workers Union convention here the union will go it alone in bargaining this year for a guaranteed annual wage and depend on a proposed 25 million dollar UAW strike fund in case of a walkout.

THE PLAN OF UAW President Reuther and the union's other officers to triple present member dues of $2.50 a month to $7.50 until the 25 million strike fund is raised has stirred a convention storm. So many delegates wanted to talk the convention had to be recessed last night and a final vote put over until today.

During debate some delegates grumbled complete disapproval of raising dues, others argued for bigger assessments, while still others were divided on whether benefits paid to strikers should be fixed amounts for everyone idle or varied according to need.

Carl Stellato, president of the big Ford Local No. 600 at Detroit and a long-time critic of Reuther's policies, said he agreed with Reuther on the need for the fund but felt it should be bigger.

STELLATO URGED Reuther to assemble CIO and AFL leaders and seek their contributions so the union would be better prepared to finance any strike this year against General Motors or Ford in behalf of the UAW's demands for the year-around pay plan, larger pensions and more pay.

Reuther said that for a decade he has nursed the idea of getting AFL and CIO unions, as well as the Independent Mine Workers and railroad unions, to "create a joint defense fund so that everybody in it will be financed by everybody's money.

"One day we will be able to do this," he said. "We're working on it. But right now we have our own problems to work out while we're working on these long-range programs."

The packed convention hall, flood-lighted and plastered with huge banners listing UAW objectives, awaited an appearance today of AFL President George Meany. It was his first appearance before so large a CIO gathering since the rival AFL and CIO agreed to merge two months ago. He was expected to discuss the merger plan and bid the UAW success on its ambitious 1955 bargaining ventures.

New Shop Center Will Be Erected

Development of Albany avenue in the vicinity of the IBM plant received another stimulus today with the announcement of a handsome, modern shopping center to be built on the east side of Albany avenue just north of the Grand Union.

The building, for which bids will be asked in the very near future, will be erected by Richard and Edwin Kalish of Kingston.

The Kalish brothers, who operate the Kingston Laundry, said today the building would house at least six stores. Each of the six could have a 30-foot front. It is possible, however, that some of the stores might be reduced to 15 feet fronts, thus increasing the number of stores represented in the center.

THE PROPERTY on which the building will be located has a 200-foot frontage on Albany avenue and is 139 feet deep. There will be a delivery service area in the rear of the center and a parking area in front, with drive entrances at two points on Albany avenue.

The store space at the southern end of the building will be occupied by a branch of Kingston Laundry and will handle dry cleaning and the laundering of shirts. A laundromat will probably be installed to provide personal laundry service.

The dry cleaning establishment will ocupy a space 30 feet wide and 60 feet deep. The other stores will be 48 feet deep.

Interest in the project which will be called the Albany Avenue Shop Center, has been expressed by a number of firms of differing types, it was said. These include a drug store, bakery, optometrist and ladies' apparel store, among others.

THE PARKING AREA will handle about 42 cars, it was explained. There should be no lack of parking facilities since the shopping center will not include

Cullum Resigns; Roth Is Named

ROBERT C. CULLUM

Mayor Frederick H. Stang accepted with regret today the resignation of Robert C. Cullum as alderman of the Twelfth Ward and appointed Richard V. Roth of 15 Dunneman avenue to succeed him.

In a letter of resignation to the mayor, Cullum said the decision had been "prompted and made necessary by my physical condition, which as you know, has not been too good for the last year or so. Recently I suffered a set-back and my doctor has strongly advised my giving up all outside activities. I believe that, in all fairness to my family and myself, I should abide by his suggestion.

"IT HAS BEEN a pleasant privilege to have served as a member of the Common Council and I wish you success for as long as you remain in city hall. With very kind personal regards, sincerely yours, Robert C. Cullum."

Cullum's resignation and the term of his successor are effective immediately.

Mayor Stang said he regretted "exceedingly having received his resignation. He has been a good representative of the Twelfth Ward. While I regret losing him I can appreciate his position that his health comes first. With some of his arduous duties off his mind he will be able to regain his health more readily."

CULLUM WAS FIRST elected in 1949 and was in his third term. In addition to his chair-

Auto Show Is Planned In April

The Kingston Automobile Dealers Association is planning local participation in nation-wide "Spotlight on Automobiles" week, April 11 to 16.

Tentative plans call for an Easter Parade of 1955 models to be held Monday evening, April 11. The parade route and time will be arranged with city officials.

EACH DEALER who is a a member of the association plans to stress "open house" at his own showrooms during the week.

A cooperative promotional effort will call attention to the importance of the automotive industry to the area. Each member dealer has been asked to provide information as to payroll, total sales, taxes paid, investment in plant and equipment, number of employes and other similar information.

THIS WILL BE totaled by the committee to give a composite picture of the importance of the industry as a whole to the economy of the community.

Other promotional phases of national "Spotlight on Automobiles" week will feature safety and the need for adequate highway systems.

School Items Recovered

State police today reported the recovery of a microscope, pens and other items stolen last week from the Rosendale public school. Trooper John Ripa of the Kingston station charged that four juveniles, all about 13 years old, admitted the burglary, and also admitted malicious mischief on two occasions at the Davis Brothers sand bank at Rosendale.

Peach Crop Has Good Outlook

Lockport, March 29 (AP)—It's an ill wind, as they say, and New York state peach growers may have a livelier-than-usual market in which to operate this year if reports of widespread damage to southern peach orchards prove correct.

Peach tree buds in some sections of the south were reported ruined over the weekend as sub-freezing temperatures drove deep into the south.

But in western New York's rich Niagara fruit belt, the trees were undamaged.

Bard Chaplain Decries Attack

Poughkeepsie, March 29 (AP)—The Rev. W. Lever Bates, rector of St. Paul's Trinity Episcopal Church at Tivoli and chaplain of Bard College, today described an attack on the college by the Rev. John Quincy Martin as "unfortunate."

Father Martin, rector of three nearby village Episcopal churches, yesterday charged that the college had abandoned its role of moral training, and demanded that the college administration resign.

Bard College President James H. Case, Jr., promptly replied that the college was not linked with any church, and said that Father Martin "apparently was speaking on the basis of rumors."

THE REV. MR. BATES said today the attack by Father Martin was "unfortunate, in the face of the courage shown by students to take matters of discipline into their own hands."

He was referring to a recent action of the judicial board of the college, made up of students, which had recommended expul-

First Polio Case Reported

The first case of poliomyelitis for the year 1955 has been reported to the Ulster County Department of Health. The patient is a 6½ year old boy residing in the southeastern portion of Ulster county.

The boy is at present under treatment in the Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie where he is said to be convalescing satisfactorily. The case was a mild one with very little muscle involvement.

Gamma globulin has been issued at the request of physicians for intimate household contacts of this case.

Troopers Raid 'Stag Party' And Four Are Fined $400

Three women and a man paid fines totalling $400 following a state police raid on what troopers described as a "stag party" at Clintondale Monday night.

Uniformed troopers and BCI men from Highland and Kingston raided Friedman's Hotel at Clintondale late Monday night under the direction of Lieutenant J. J. Micklas.

Arrested were two New York women charged with indecent exposure, a Poughkeepsie man accused of operating an indecent show, and the hotel owner, who was charged with being the owner of an establishment permitting a place to be used for an indecent show.

All were taken before Justice of the Peace Hobart Smalley of the town of Plattekill and all pleaded guilty as charged.

Fined $150 as the operator of the show was Joseph Anthony Periano, 37, who gave his address as 18 Davis street, Poughkeepsie.

Fines of 100 each were levied against Lee Edna Miller, 38 of 52 West 70th street, and Barbara Scott, 22, of 33 West 67th street, New York, both charged with indecent exposure.

Regina Axelrod, 50, of Friedman's Hotel, RFD, Highland, was fined $50 on a charge of being the owner of the establishment in which the show was staged.

All were released after payment of the fines.

Troopers did not identify any of the patrons of the alleged "stag party." None of them was held. At the Highland state police station this morning, it was reported that no count of the total number of persons present was available, but a trooper said there were "quite a few" men present.

Arrested were two New York women charged with indecent exposure, a Poughkeepsie man accused of operating an indecent show, and the hotel owner, who was charged with being the owner of an establishment permitting a place to be used for an indecent show.

All were taken before Justice of the Peace Hobart Smalley of the town of Plattekill and all pleaded guilty as charged.

Fined $150 as the operator of the show was Joseph Anthony Periano, 37, who gave his address as 18 Davis street, Poughkeepsie.

Fines of 100 each were levied against Lee Edna Miller, 38 of 52 West 70th street, and Barbara Scott, 22, of 33 West 67th street, New York, both charged with indecent exposure.

Regina Axelrod, 50, of Friedman's Hotel, RFD, Highland, was fined $50 on a charge of being the owner of the establishment in which the show was staged.

All were released after payment of the fines.

Troopers did not identify any of the patrons of the alleged "stag party." None of them was held. At the Highland state police station this morning, it was reported that no count of the total number of persons present was available, but a trooper said there were "quite a few" men present.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Local Residents Urged to Donate Clothes for Korea

Woodstock, March 29 — The Woodstock Rotary Club will conduct a drive to collect used clothing for Korea it has been announced by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, chairman of the International Service Committee of the Woodstock Rotary Club.

The crusade will take place here from April 1 to May 15.

"We cannot stress too much the need for clothing that exists among all in this country especially for children," the Rev. Mr. Todd said. "I am sure the citizens of Woodstock will want to lend a helping hand. The crusade provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection, and at the same time teaches all of us to share what we have with the less fortunate. Participation in this clothing crusade will help foster a sense of brotherhood and lay a firm foundation for international good-will. The clothing may be left at the Woodstock Garage at any time during business hours from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m., where Lewis Wilson, the proprietor who is at the same time president of the Rotary Club, will take good care of it until it is shipped out."

Clothing collected by the crusade is used to aid needy children and families in Korea. More than two million Korean men, women and children are refugees in their own country. In response to their plight, the Save the Children Federation continues to send warm clothing and shoes to these victims of Communist aggression. It is through the management of this well-known national organization that the clothes are distributed in Korea.

Late Bulletin

Albany, March 29 (AP)—The Senate today gave final legislative approval to a two-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax boost, to become effective Jan. 1 if the voters adopt a highway bond issue.

A companion bill to increase the state's diesel fuel tax by three cents a gallon also was passed by the Senate and sent to Gov. Harriman. He is expected to sign the tax measures.

The measures provide that the state gasoline tax would be raised from four cents to six cents a gallon and the diesel fuel levy from six cents to nine cents to pay off a 750-million-dollar highway bond issue.

The bond proposal itself won final legislative approval in the Senate today. It will be put before the voters next fall in a referendum. Harriman's signature is not required.

Assembly Rejects Divorce Study

Albany, March 29 (AP)—The Assembly today turned thumbs down on a study aimed at streamlining the state's laws on divorce and other domestic matters.

A bill that would have created a temporary State Commission to consider matrimonial relationships was defeated 85-61.

The bill's sponsor, Assemblyman Janet Hill Gordon, Chenango county Republican, tabled the measure so that it could be brought up again later in the session.

REPUBLICAN and Democratic lawmakers teamed to vote down the bill, which was endorsed by Protestant and Jewish church groups, but opposed by the Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Gordon, in a plea for passage, said the present laws governing matrimonial and domestic affairs were "inadequate" and had "aggravated crimes of domestic nature and contributed to juvenile delinquency."

ASSEMBLYMAN Malcolm Wilson, Westchester county Republican, contended that a study was "completely unnecessary." He said the problem could be solved by direct action of the Legislature.

The bill would have created a 23-member, unsalaried body to make a one-year study. It would have comprised nine assemblymen and six senators and eight appointees of the committee.

The measure sought an appropriation of $25,000.

Officers of 27th Division Attend Armored School

Fort Knox, Ky., March 29—The general officers, field and company grade officers of New York state's famed "Empire Division" are attending a special three-week armor officer refresher course here at the armored school.

One hundred officers of the 27th Armored Division, New York National Guard, are receiving advanced branch training that will aid them in their summer maneuvers and training program.

AMONG THE officers at the school is Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion, comprising units in Kingston and Poughkeepsie. During the absence of Colonel Harkin, Major Arthur H. Marx of Poughkeepsie is acting battalion commander.

The course provides instruction in the fields of communications, gunnery, maintenance, operations, logistics, administration, intelligence, field engineering, instructor training, weapons, and automotive and command staff work.

The division, under the command of Maj. Gen. Ronald C. Brock, Tonawanda, N. Y., was converted from an infantry to an armored division in February. This brings to a total of 11 the number of armored division in the United States and Europe. There are five national guard, four tactical and two training divisions in armor.

ACCOMPANYING Gen. Brock to Fort Knox for the special training session are Brig. Gen. Aimerian O'Hara, Buffalo, N. Y., and Brig. Gen. Brainard E. Prescott of East Aurora, N. Y. General Prescott commands the 27th Division Artillery with headquarters in Buffalo and Gen. O'Hara is attached to the Command Staff Headquarters.

The division will earmark for its annual summer encampment and maneuvers at Camp Drum, N. Y., on August 21. The two weeks of training this summer will be devoted primarily to familiarizing the troops with armor and armored tactics.

As the 27th Infantry Division in World War 2, the New Yorkers were island hoppers. The division was inducted into active service in October 1940 at Fort McClellan, Ala., and conducted maneuvers in Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana before embarking for Hawaii in April 1942.

THEY ANNIHILATED the Japanese on Makin Island in 1943. They went on to Eniwetok in February 1944 to capture that tiny island and destroy all enemy installations.

With the Marshall Islands campaign successfully concluded, the "Empire Division" jumped off for Saipan. The division teamed up with the Marines for a night amphibious landing and later reached to within 200 yards of Aslito airstrip, where the first B-29s later took off to assault Japan.

Garapan and Tanapag fell in an advance which was gaining momentum. On July 7, 1945, the division suffered severe losses when its left flank was overrun by a powerful Japanese Banzai charge. Saipan campaigning then became a series of mopping-up operations.

WITH THE MARIANNAS secure, the 27th went on to Okinawa for the next battle action. During the intensive fighting there, elements of the division made a side trip to Kume Island, 50 miles west, and captured it. The island later became one of the jumping-off points for air assaults on the Japanese mainland.

The division was brought back to the United States shortly after the cease-fire in the Far East, reorganized and was again assigned to the New York National Guard.

Today, 10 years later, the division joins the family of armor to begin a new chapter in its long history dating from its first employment as a tactical force on the Mexican border, to the smashing of the Hindenberg Line, and on to the islands of the South Pacific.

Sid Caesar Improves

New York, March 29 (AP)—Television star Sid Caesar was reported improving somewhat today after acute grip forced him last night to miss his first show in over six years. His temperature dropped a degree to 102 and he is still in bed in his Park avenue apartment, an NBC spokesman said. He is expected to be up and around by the end of the week, however, and able to start rehearsals next Wednesday for his April 11 show. His "Caesar's Hour" is presented three Mondays out of four; next Monday he normally would be off. NBC substituted a kinescope of a previous show when Caesar could not appear.

Plane Rolls Over Instructor

Greenville, Miss., March 29 (AP)—A C-46 broke from its moorings while being warmed up today and rolled down the flight line into a jet trainer, killing a flight instructor. Four other airmen were injured.

Lt. Col. John Chick, commanding officer at the Greenville Air Force Base, identified the dead as 1st Lt. Rupert M. Pierce, hometown unavailable.

Col. Chick said Pierce had just returned from a training flight and was standing next to the T-33 trainer.

After hitting the jet trainer, the C-46 smashed into a nearby snack bar and burst into flames. Eighteen men in the snack bar escaped injury, Col. Chick said.

Chick said a crew chief aboard the C-46 received a fractured shoulder.

The other injured airmen were standing on the flight line.

The C-46 was stationed at Floyd Bennett AFB, N. Y.

Three Killed, One Shot by Maniac

Henderson, Ky., March 29 (AP)—Officers established today that one or more sex maniacs killed a well-to-do stock farmer, his son and daughter-in-law and critically wounded the farmer's wife.

Both women, found partly disrobed and their hands tied behind them, had been sexually molested.

The bodies of the men, their hands also fastened behind their back, were found about a mile from the farm home of Goebel Duncan, 51.

All four had been shot once in the head with a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

AUTHORITIES THEORIZED that Duncan and his son Raymond, 21, surprised the maniac yesterday as he attacked the two women in the isolated farm home, then were overpowered and slain.

The slain woman was Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 20, wife of Duncan's son, Dorris Ray Duncan.

Mrs. Mamie Duncan, 49, wife of Goebel Duncan, is still unconscious from a bullet wound in the head. She is not expected to live. If she does survive, doctors say, it is doubtful she could remember what happened.

The triple slaying occurred near Geneva, 15 miles southwest of Henderson and about 10 miles south of the Indiana line.

The searchers found reason to suspect that the crime was committed by the man who killed and raped a woman in Indiana a week ago.

As in the case of the new victims, the body of a farm woman, Mrs. Wilhelmina Suzan Sailer, 47, was found slain and raped March 21 at her Mount Vernon, Ind., home. Her killer remains at large. Mount Vernon is only 15 miles northwest of the Geneva community, scene of yesterday's slayings.

Pressure Mounts On Nine Convicts

Lincoln, Neb., March 29 (AP)—A prisoner revolt at Nebraska's state penitentiary went into its third day today with pressure mounting on the insurgents to surrender themselves and two captive guards.

More than 48 hours had passed since the nine rebels ate their last meal.

Hunger and the apparent futility of the insurrection were presumed to be forcing a showdown, although nobody knew exactly what was going on in the square, three-story penitentiary building in which the convicts and hostages have been sealed since Sunday forenoon.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson said he was sure the men had no food in the captive building — the maximum security building or prison jail.

HE SAID he was confident, too, that the hostage guards are safe. He had a note from them yesterday afternoon asking for food, but none was sent because the convicts would have seized it.

The governor reported at midmorning there had been no further word from the rebels since notes were exchanged yesterday forenoon.

Strategy of prison officials from the outset has been to wait out the rebellion, offer no concessions and do nothing until the captive guards have been released.

"I want to emphasize that I mean what I say: We will be fair with them," the governor said today. But there will be no thought of compromise while the guards still are being held.

Deal in Works To Settle Feud

Albany, March 29 (AP)—A deal was in the works today to settle the bitter feud between Gov. Harriman and Republican leaders over state aid to education.

An agreement would clear the way for the Legislature to adjourn Saturday. A last-minute hitch could extend the session into next week or prompt the governor to recall the lawmakers after Easter.

Spokesmen for both sides said today, however, that the administration and the Republican majorities were "very close" to agreement.

AT STAKE are the prestige of both sides and three million dollars in additional special aid that Harriman seeks for education of foreign-born and handicapped pupils in New York city.

Joseph F. Carlino, GOP majority leader of the Assembly, told a reporter it was likely that "the governor will take a little less and we'll give a little more."

IT WAS REPORTED that Harriman and legislative leaders of both parties would thrash out the final details at a meeting scheduled late this afternoon.

The dispute centers on a Republican "package" bill on state aid for education, passed by both Houses and sent to the governor last week.

Harriman asked for $3,500,000 for classes for non-English speaking students in New York city; the Republicans voted $1,000,000—to be spent statewide.

THE GOVERNOR sought $1,500,000 for instruction of mentally and physically handicapped youngsters in the city; the Republicans voted $1,000,000—again to be spent statewide.

In other developments:

1. The Assembly voted to adjourn at 1 p. m. Saturday, if the Senate concurs. However, the resolution can be amended or reconsidered at any time.

2. The Senate voted 54-1 to repeal a law barring public employes from taking part-time jobs at race tracks or in racing horses in New York state. The measure, sponsored by Sen. William F. Condon, Yonkers Republican, was sent to the Assembly.

3. Harriman urged the Legislature to speed up public housing construction and help ease what he said was a need for one million more dwellings in the state. He spelled out a seven-point program. Much of it has been endorsed by the Republicans.

THE GOP - CONTROLLED Senate Committee on the Affairs of the City of New York reported favorably on two bills to increase the city's taxing powers. The measures, already approved by the Assembly, have been held up as a club to persuade Harriman to go along with the school-aid measure. Committee approval cleared the way for quick action once that fight had been settled.

Carlino said last night in a recorded radio interview (WGY, Schenectady) that the Legislature would adjourn Saturday "barring unforeseen developments."

He declared there would be "no rent control" if Harriman vetoed a GOP measure to lift controls in 17 counties and ease them in five. The GOP majorities are scheduled to ram the bill through both houses tomorrow.

Although Harriman has objected that the measure leaves loopholes unplugged, he is expected to sign it.

Oysters are grown all over the world, except on shores washed by polar seas.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Local Residents Urged to Donate Clothes for Korea

Woodstock, March 29 — The Woodstock Rotary Club will conduct a drive to collect used clothing for Korea it has been announced by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, chairman of the International Service Committee of the Woodstock Rotary Club.

The crusade will take place here from April 1 to May 15.

"We cannot stress too much the need for clothing that exists among all in this country especially for children," the Rev. Mr. Todd said. "I am sure the citizens of Woodstock will want to lend a helping hand. The crusade provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection, and at the same time teaches all of us to share what we have with the less fortunate. Participation in this clothing crusade will help foster a sense of brotherhood and lay a firm foundation for international good-will. The clothing may be left at the Woodstock Garage at any time during business hours from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m., where Lewis Wilson, the proprietor who is at the same time president of the Rotary Club, will take good care of it until it is shipped out."

Clothing collected by the crusade is used to aid needy children and families in Korea. More than two million Korean men, women and children are refugees in their own country. In response to their plight, the Save the Children Federation continues to send warm clothing and shoes to these victims of Communist aggression. It is through the management of this well-known national organization that the clothes are distributed in Korea.

Late Bulletin

Albany, March 29 (AP)—The Senate today gave final legislative approval to a two-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax boost, to become effective Jan. 1 if the voters adopt a highway bond issue.

A companion bill to increase the state's diesel fuel tax by three cents a gallon also was passed by the Senate and sent to Gov. Harriman. He is expected to sign the tax measures.

The measures provide that the state gasoline tax would be raised from four cents to six cents a gallon and the diesel fuel levy from six cents to nine cents to pay off a 750-million-dollar highway bond issue.

The bond proposal itself won final legislative approval in the Senate today. It will be put before the voters next fall in a referendum. Harriman's signature is not required.

Assembly Rejects Divorce Study

Albany, March 29 (AP)—The Assembly today turned thumbs down on a study aimed at streamlining the state's laws on divorce and other domestic matters.

A bill that would have created a temporary State Commission to consider matrimonial relationships was defeated 85-61.

The bill's sponsor, Assemblyman Janet Hill Gordon, Chenango county Republican, tabled the measure so that it could be brought up again later in the session.

REPUBLICAN and Democratic lawmakers teamed to vote down the bill, which was endorsed by Protestant and Jewish church groups, but opposed by the Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Gordon, in a plea for passage, said the present laws governing matrimonial and domestic affairs were "inadequate" and had "aggravated crimes of domestic nature and contributed to juvenile delinquency."

ASSEMBLYMAN Malcolm Wilson, Westchester county Republican, contended that a study was "completely unnecessary." He said the problem could be solved by direct action of the Legislature.

The bill would have created a 23-member, unsalaried body to make a one-year study. It would have comprised nine assemblymen and six senators and eight appointees of the committee.

The measure sought an appropriation of $25,000.

Officers of 27th Division Attend Armored School

Fort Knox, Ky., March 29—The general officers, field and company grade officers of New York state's famed "Empire Division" are attending a special three-week armor officer refresher course here at the armored school.

One hundred officers of the 27th Armored Division, New York National Guard, are receiving advanced branch training that will aid them in their summer maneuvers and training program.

AMONG THE officers at the school is Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion, comprising units in Kingston and Poughkeepsie. During the absence of Colonel Harkin, Major Arthur H. Marx of Poughkeepsie is acting battalion commander.

The course provides instruction in the fields of communications, gunnery, maintenance, operations, logistics, administration, intelligence, field engineering, instructor training, weapons, and automotive and command staff work.

The division, under the command of Maj. Gen. Ronald C. Brock, Tonawanda, N. Y., was converted from an infantry to an armored division in February. This brings to a total of 11 the number of armored division in the United States and Europe. There are five national guard, four tactical and two training divisions in armor.

ACCOMPANYING Gen. Brock to Fort Knox for the special training session are Brig. Gen. Aimerian O'Hara, Buffalo, N. Y., and Brig. Gen. Brainard E. Prescott of East Aurora, N. Y. General Prescott commands the 27th Division Artillery with headquarters in Buffalo and Gen. O'Hara is attached to the Command Staff Headquarters.

The division will earmark for its annual summer encampment and maneuvers at Camp Drum, N. Y., on August 21. The two weeks of training this summer will be devoted primarily to familiarizing the troops with armor and armored tactics.

As the 27th Infantry Division in World War 2, the New Yorkers were island hoppers. The division was inducted into active service in October 1940 at Fort McClellan, Ala., and conducted maneuvers in Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana before embarking for Hawaii in April 1942.

THEY ANNIHILATED the Japanese on Makin Island in 1943. They went on to Eniwetok in February 1944 to capture that tiny island and destroy all enemy installations.

With the Marshall Islands campaign successfully concluded, the "Empire Division" jumped off for Saipan. The division teamed up with the Marines for a night amphibious landing and later reached to within 200 yards of Aslito airstrip, where the first B-29s later took off to assault Japan.

Garapan and Tanapag fell in an advance which was gaining momentum. On July 7, 1945, the division suffered severe losses when its left flank was overrun by a powerful Japanese Banzai charge. Saipan campaigning then became a series of mopping-up operations.

WITH THE MARIANNAS secure, the 27th went on to Okinawa for the next battle action. During the intensive fighting there, elements of the division made a side trip to Kume Island, 50 miles west, and captured it. The island later became one of the jumping-off points for air assaults on the Japanese mainland.

The division was brought back to the United States shortly after the cease-fire in the Far East, reorganized and was again assigned to the New York National Guard.

Today, 10 years later, the division joins the family of armor to begin a new chapter in its long history dating from its first employment as a tactical force on the Mexican border, to the smashing of the Hindenberg Line, and on to the islands of the South Pacific.

Sid Caesar Improves

New York, March 29 (AP)—Television star Sid Caesar was reported improving somewhat today after acute grip forced him last night to miss his first show in over six years. His temperature dropped a degree to 102 and he is still in bed in his Park avenue apartment, an NBC spokesman said. He is expected to be up and around by the end of the week, however, and able to start rehearsals next Wednesday for his April 11 show. His "Caesar's Hour" is presented three Mondays out of four; next Monday he normally would be off. NBC substituted a kinescope of a previous show when Caesar could not appear.

Plane Rolls Over Instructor

Greenville, Miss., March 29 (AP)—A C-46 broke from its moorings while being warmed up today and rolled down the flight line into a jet trainer, killing a flight instructor. Four other airmen were injured.

Lt. Col. John Chick, commanding officer at the Greenville Air Force Base, identified the dead as 1st Lt. Rupert M. Pierce, hometown unavailable.

Col. Chick said Pierce had just returned from a training flight and was standing next to the T-33 trainer.

After hitting the jet trainer, the C-46 smashed into a nearby snack bar and burst into flames. Eighteen men in the snack bar escaped injury, Col. Chick said.

Chick said a crew chief aboard the C-46 received a fractured shoulder.

The other injured airmen were standing on the flight line.

The C-46 was stationed at Floyd Bennett AFB, N. Y.

Three Killed, One Shot by Maniac

Henderson, Ky., March 29 (AP)—Officers established today that one or more sex maniacs killed a well-to-do stock farmer, his son and daughter-in-law and critically wounded the farmer's wife.

Both women, found partly disrobed and their hands tied behind them, had been sexually molested.

The bodies of the men, their hands also fastened behind their back, were found about a mile from the farm home of Goebel Duncan, 51.

All four had been shot once in the head with a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

AUTHORITIES THEORIZED that Duncan and his son Raymond, 21, surprised the maniac yesterday as he attacked the two women in the isolated farm home, then were overpowered and slain.

The slain woman was Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 20, wife of Duncan's son, Dorris Ray Duncan.

Mrs. Mamie Duncan, 49, wife of Goebel Duncan, is still unconscious from a bullet wound in the head. She is not expected to live. If she does survive, doctors say, it is doubtful she could remember what happened.

The triple slaying occurred near Geneva, 15 miles southwest of Henderson and about 10 miles south of the Indiana line.

The searchers found reason to suspect that the crime was committed by the man who killed and raped a woman in Indiana a week ago.

As in the case of the new victims, the body of a farm woman, Mrs. Wilhelmina Suzan Sailer, 47, was found slain and raped March 21 at her Mount Vernon, Ind., home. Her killer remains at large. Mount Vernon is only 15 miles northwest of the Geneva community, scene of yesterday's slayings.

Pressure Mounts On Nine Convicts

Lincoln, Neb., March 29 (AP)—A prisoner revolt at Nebraska's state penitentiary went into its third day today with pressure mounting on the insurgents to surrender themselves and two captive guards.

More than 48 hours had passed since the nine rebels ate their last meal.

Hunger and the apparent futility of the insurrection were presumed to be forcing a showdown, although nobody knew exactly what was going on in the square, three-story penitentiary building in which the convicts and hostages have been sealed since Sunday forenoon.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson said he was sure the men had no food in the captive building — the maximum security building or prison jail.

HE SAID he was confident, too, that the hostage guards are safe. He had a note from them yesterday afternoon asking for food, but none was sent because the convicts would have seized it.

The governor reported at midmorning there had been no further word from the rebels since notes were exchanged yesterday forenoon.

Strategy of prison officials from the outset has been to wait out the rebellion, offer no concessions and do nothing until the captive guards have been released.

"I want to emphasize that I mean what I say: We will be fair with them," the governor said today. But there will be no thought of compromise while the guards still are being held.

Deal in Works To Settle Feud

Albany, March 29 (AP)—A deal was in the works today to settle the bitter feud between Gov. Harriman and Republican leaders over state aid to education.

An agreement would clear the way for the Legislature to adjourn Saturday. A last-minute hitch could extend the session into next week or prompt the governor to recall the lawmakers after Easter.

Spokesmen for both sides said today, however, that the administration and the Republican majorities were "very close" to agreement.

AT STAKE are the prestige of both sides and three million dollars in additional special aid that Harriman seeks for education of foreign-born and handicapped pupils in New York city.

Joseph F. Carlino, GOP majority leader of the Assembly, told a reporter it was likely that "the governor will take a little less and we'll give a little more."

IT WAS REPORTED that Harriman and legislative leaders of both parties would thrash out the final details at a meeting scheduled late this afternoon.

The dispute centers on a Republican "package" bill on state aid for education, passed by both Houses and sent to the governor last week.

Harriman asked for $3,500,000 for classes for non-English speaking students in New York city; the Republicans voted $1,000,000—to be spent statewide.

THE GOVERNOR sought $1,500,000 for instruction of mentally and physically handicapped youngsters in the city; the Republicans voted $1,000,000—again to be spent statewide.

In other developments:

1. The Assembly voted to adjourn at 1 p. m. Saturday, if the Senate concurs. However, the resolution can be amended or reconsidered at any time.

2. The Senate voted 54-1 to repeal a law barring public employes from taking part-time jobs at race tracks or in racing horses in New York state. The measure, sponsored by Sen. William F. Condon, Yonkers Republican, was sent to the Assembly.

3. Harriman urged the Legislature to speed up public housing construction and help ease what he said was a need for one million more dwellings in the state. He spelled out a seven-point program. Much of it has been endorsed by the Republicans.

THE GOP - CONTROLLED Senate Committee on the Affairs of the City of New York reported favorably on two bills to increase the city's taxing powers. The measures, already approved by the Assembly, have been held up as a club to persuade Harriman to go along with the school-aid measure. Committee approval cleared the way for quick action once that fight had been settled.

Carlino said last night in a recorded radio interview (WGY Schenectady) that the Legislature would adjourn Saturday "barring unforeseen developments."

He declared there would be "no rent control" if Harriman vetoed a GOP measure to lift controls in 17 counties and ease them in five. The GOP majorities are scheduled to ram the bill through both houses tomorrow.

Although Harriman has objected that the measure leaves loopholes unplugged, he is expected to sign it.

Oysters are grown all over the world, except on shores washed by polar seas.

Public Gets More Curious About Inside of Business

BY SAM DAWSON

New York, March 29 (AP) — Public interest in the inside workings of business continues to grow.

It sparks dramatic and musical comedy hits on Broadway. It lifts novels to the best seller lists. It inspires television shows.

A senatorial study of the stock market makes front pages of the newspapers. Stockholders meetings, once drab cut-and-dried affairs, now draw record crowds of festive or quarrelsome men and women.

PUBLIC ATTENTION has been especially captured of late by the dramatic nions of the fiction writers — novelists, playwrights, movie scenarists, radio and TV scriptsters.

They find a growing reading or viewing public for their accounts of what makes business tick, of unethical jockeying for position by executives, big and little, of the drama behind the doors when boards of directors meet, or along the assembly lines of factories, or around the tables where labor and management bargain.

THEY REMEMBER that once before the public got interested in business as a subject of fiction. Frank Norris, Theodore Dreiser, Upton Sinclair raked up some mossy stuff. And Sinclair Lewis' Babbitt was carried over into popular usage as a common noun to describe the more promotional type of business man.

The second world war set off the second wave of interest, this time it's in the drama of business itself. At first the writers played with the quirks of some industry or profession. The hucksters purported to show readers the inner secrets of advertising agencies. The movies made a few pictures around the fairly unglamorous side of that industry. And the theatre exposed some of its seamier side, too. A current best selling novel takes a look at book publishing, among other things.

OF LATE the writers have turned to the industrialist, a being they once dismissed as dull. Executive Suite, a novel later made into a movie, dealt with a battle for power among corporate executives when the president dropped dead.

A Broadway comedy hit, The Solid Gold Cadillac, started in a stockholders' meeting and moved into top management's plush offices. A musical comedy hit, The Pajama Game, bases its plot on the struggle of a labor union to get a 7½ cent an hour pay rise — a theme that once wouldn't have inspired either music or comedy.

Latest to take up the fad is television, both at the comedy-secretary level and in the serious drama field.

THE JOB and personal problems of a factory foreman and workers on an assembly line was recently beamed into the homes of the nation in the program, Man in the Corner.

The TV drama, Patterns, was repeated by request for a wide audience after its story of cut-throat competition at the corporate executive level brought much viewer comment.

Businessmen are showing signs of being unhappy about some of this show of interest in their way of life. A few spokesmen for business are already denying that lack of ethics is general among top executives or that corporate affairs are run on any such scale of ruthless personal ambition.

Some of the business orators who used to mount luncheon club rostrums to urge that business "tell its story" may soon work up enough steam to start declaiming that business is just as staid and humdrum as the reading and viewing public used to think it.

THE PICTURE was in competition with those taken by photographers in all parts of the United States and in foreign countries. There were 516 photographers, amateurs and professionals, who entered the contest conducted by the National Humane Review. In this "Kindness" photo contest, the judges unanimously agreed that the picture reproduced above came close to perfection in portraying spirit of kindness.

THE NATIONAL Humane Review states "that since the rules of the contest emphasize this illustrative quality above mere photographic technique, Mr. Herzberg had a strong advantage because of his presentation of subject matter. His photographic print also is technically excellent. The strong light on the head of the snuggling bunny is at precisely the right spot for pictorial purposes."

This picture along with other prize winners will benefit humane work in all parts of the country, because they will be made available for exhibition by local humane societies in promoting their programs.

ANOTHER PHOTO by Herzberg also won honorable picture. It was the first time in the history of the society's contest that two prizes went to one photographer.

Grunewald, Two Are Found Guilty In Federal Court

New York, March 29 (AP) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald and Daniel A. Bolich, former assistant commissioner of internal revenue, have been convicted by a Federal Court jury of a $160,000 tax-fix bribery conspiracy.

Max Halperin, Manhattan tax attorney, was convicted with them.

After the seven-week trial the jury acquitted two co-defendants — Max Steinberg, former group chief in the upper Manhattan Division of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and Harry T. Scherm, a former agent in the same office.

Steinberg and Scherm had been charged with receiving a $40,000 bribe in the case.

THE JURY OF SEVEN men and five women brought in its verdict last night after deliberating 8½ hours.

Judge Archie O. Dawson set sentencing for Friday.

Grunewald, 62-year-old former Washington influence peddler, known variously as "The Mystery Man," "The Dutchman" and "Gravel-voiced Henry," faces a possible maximum of five years in prison, a $10,000 fine or both.

The judge set $30,000 bail for Grunewald, who lives at 3809 Club Drive, Chevy Chase, Md., a Washington suburb. Government attorneys sought to have Grunewald held in jail. They said he has more than a million dollars in cash in safe deposit boxes and might leave the country if bailed.

HALPERIN WAS continued in $5,000 bail and Bolich in $3,500. Grunewald's bail had been $5,000 before the conviction.

Bolich, 54, a Brooklyn resident, faces a possible maximum sentence of eight years in prison and a $15,000 fine. He was convicted on a more serious count applying to a government official.

Halperin, 69, who lives in Manhattan, could draw up to 20 years in prison and $25,000 in fines. In addition to the basic conspiracy charge, he was convicted on three counts relating to impeding witnesses before a grand jury.

Steinberg, 58, lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., and Scherm, 46, lives in Williston Park, N. Y., on Long Island.

THE GOVERNMENT charged at the trial that the five defendants received $200,000 in bribes to halt action in two income tax cases. Bolich was accused of quashing two possible tax prosecutions at the request of Grunewald and Halperin.

Attorneys said last night's verdict was the first time Grunewald was convicted on any charge except contempt of court. He broke into the limelight several years ago during congressional investigation of scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau, and disclosures during that investigation led to his prosecution here.

THE INDICTMENT on which the five were tried charged that a conspiracy to defraud the government was carried on from 1946 through 1951. The indictment also charged that attempts to hide the facts continued until the date of the indictment, last Oct. 25.

The prosecution presented testimony that Halperin passed $100,000 in bills to Grunewald in a Washington hotel Jan. 12, 1949. The government said the New York dress manufacturing firm of Pattullo Modes had paid $140,000 in cash to avoid possible prosecution in a tax case—with Grunewald receiving the $100,000 and Scherm and Steinberg the rest of the money through an intermediary. Grunewald was convicted on this count, while Scherm and Steinberg were acquitted.

The other tax case involved the Gotham Beef Co., which the government said paid Grunewald $60,000 to halt a possible tax prosecution. Halperin allegedly took this money to Grunewald in Washington and Grunewald got Bolich to halt proceedings. Grunewald, Halperin and Bolich were convicted on this count.

Dramatic Felon Gets Long Terms

New York, March 29 (AP)—Michael Garcia likes to put a little drama into his court appearances.

Last December he was brought in to testify in the trial of a fellow prison inmate who was accused of murder but later acquitted. Expected to tell about a prison-cell confession, Garcia instead threw coins at the prosecutor's feet and dramatically announced: "I'm no Judas."

Yesterday Garcia was in court again, this time for sentencing on his own conviction of kidnaping, robbery and sodomy in connection with attacks on five women.

"WHERE'S YOUR HAMMER and sickle?" Garcia shouted to Queens county Judge Peter Farrell as he prepared to pronounce the sentence.

"Just sentence me," the prisoner continued. "I don't expect any mercy. There's no justice here anyway. Don't make a speech for the newspapers."

Farrell gave Garcia, 25, a sentence of 20 years to life for kidnaping, plus concurrent sentences totalling 150 years on other charges.

"Thank you, Mr. Molotov!" Garcia shouted.

The principal conviction against Garcia was for kidnaping a young woman from a parking lot, robbing and raping her, despite the fact that she was seven months pregnant.

Eisenhower Aids Churches By Going, Despite Critic

Washington, March 29 (AP) — Sen. Allott (R.-Colo.) said today President Eisenhower is doing a lot more for the country by regular church attendance than Sen. Neely (D.-W. Va.) is doing in criticizing him for it. Allott blasted back in an interview at Neely's criticisms yesterday of the President's golf, his church attendance and his foreign and domestic programs.

Neely, in a speech to the CIO United Auto Workers convention at Cleveland, said the President never belonged to a church before he became Chief Executive yet now gets his picture taken nearly every Sunday attending services.

"I OBJECT to connecting religion with politics," Neely said. "Any man who tries to parade his religion that way before the public is ungodly."

Allott replied:

"Any man who is President of the United States and by his example of church attendance calls the attention of the people to the need of devotion is doing a lot more for his country than a man who can find nothing better to criticize."

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he doesn't think "anybody in the United States believes" what Neely said about Eisenhower. He added that he had not told the President about it, but was speaking "for the White House."

SEN. GOLDWATER (R.-Ariz.) called Neely's reference to Eisenhower's church going "an example of gutter desperation at its worst."

Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), in a statement issued by Robert R. Nathan, chairman of its executive committee, declared:

"Republican cries of foul at Sen. Neely's speech reflect a dangerous climate of opinion, which has been deliberately promoted by this administration and their Madison avenue hucksters to make any criticism of the President somehow immoral. No man, particularly the President of the United States, is above criticism."

ADA DESCRIBES itself as a nonpartisan organization dedicated to policies of liberalism as laid down by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Neely apparently spoke his own views without consulting Democratic leaders. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the party leader in the Senate, declined comment on his colleague's remarks.

Neely said he thinks the country needs a President "who won't spend more than half of his time playing golf and fishing."

Allott said he seemed to remember that Democratic Presidents went cruising up and down the Potomac "and spent some time sitting on the beach in Florida wearing fancy flowered shirts."

SOCIAL-CLIMBING ULCERS

Many people seem to regard ulcers as one of the prize symptoms of our high-paced industrial civilization. Even before the tensions of the cold war, they were almost standard equipment in the nation's executive offices.

Comedian Fred Allen once described an executive as an "ulcer on the end of a pencil."

Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, lunching recently with a dozen cartoonists who had been busy lampooning him, indirectly indicated that maybe top executives are managing somehow to transfer the ailment to their subordinates.

"Heard the definition of an executive?" he asked. "He's a fellow who wears a worried expression on his assistant's face."

Still, from all acounts, it's doubtful that the transfer of pain has been quite complete. The top men in our world still flock to the medics with the old complaint.

Now, suddenly a professor comes along to say that maybe it's the women, not the business pressures directly, that give men their ulcers.

Dr. Benjamin Paul, assistant professor of social anthropology at Harvard, told a meeting of health organizations that the social scientists are exploring what he called "areas of social strain" in search of causes for ailments like ulcers.

He said so-called social climbing may be playing a big role in producing them, and quite plainly he put the responsibility for the climbing at the door of the women. Apparently they drive their men "to get ahead," so the family can move into a better neighborhood, buy a bigger house, get a better car, join a club, and so on.

In recent decades, he noted, ulcers have become increasingly a man's disease. Cases among women seem to be relatively fewer as time advances.

Probably you never hear a man say to his wife these days:

"Take it easy, dear, or you'll get an ulcer."

If the Harvard fellow is right, the wife would probably borrow a line from a play now making the rounds of the nation and reply:

"I don't get ulcers. I give 'em."

Probably the best way to find wisdom in old age is to search for it through education and self-instruction all the years along the way.

DELINQUNECY IN DECLINE

Among the more heartening statistics released this year are those from large cities of the United States attesting that teen-age crime is losing ground. Delinquency is said to be down as much as 3.5 per cent from last year.

However, the business of clocking crime has been deceptive. Any statistics on crime are relatively new, because it has been less than a generation since anyone first thought to count the sins. Stories of the good old crime-free days are safe in the fog of memory, but do not make fair comparison with today's picture.

Cities are larger, temptations greater, opportunities more frequent for crime. Furthermore, there are more crimes on the book. Car stealing was scarcely a crime when grandpa was a boy, while truancy and running away were more often the occasion for a visit to the woodshed than for a sentence to a correctional institution.

Times have changed, crimes have changed. While it is ridiculous to underestimate the seriousness or frequency of juvenile crime, it is also unwise not to realize that a stockpile of statistics that seems to spell young fiend horror under foot, actually spells nothing of the sort. A brutal teen-age murder is recorded statistically with truancy and no discrimination is made in the total delinquency picture. At the end of the year statisticians have more wild oats on their books than they have apprentice gangsters.

Youth is probably not getting so much worse as we are getting better at watching it.

How deceiving it can be when the person older than he appears acts younger than he is!

THE CLAQUE

Whenever any Administration in Washington takes a position on any subject, there is always a claque of distinguished names that is used for supporting applause. The same names often appeared in the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations as now appear in the Eisenhower Administration. For many of these men, it is always "God's in His heaven: All's right with the world."

Unfortunately for their reputations, all has not gone well, certainly with the universal desire for a restored and permanent peace. The war, which commenced in 1914, has managed in one form or another to continue to this day. The pessimists who questioned the virtue of secret diplomacy and deals without principle have been justified by the course of events.

And so, one comes across comments concerning the Yalta Agreements which are not borne out by the publication of the Yalta Documents. For instance, Harry Truman, then Vice President of the United States, said of them:

"We're going to look forward to the most glorious period in the history of the world."

Surely, the period between 1945 and 1955 has not been the most glorious in the history of the world from the standpoint of achievement of any kind.

James Byrnes, who was present at Yalta, said:

"Every person should be proud of the role played by the President, especially in the discussion of economic and political problems. . . . I was tremendously impressed by the comradeship and genuine affection showed by the three leaders."

Elliott Roosevelt, in his book, "As He Saw it," gives us this:

"Harry Hopkins is my witness for the statement that the unity of Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt was a firmer and more tangible thing at Yalta than at Teheran. And it was evident that Father's role, even more than at earlier conferences, was that of leader. It is not by chance that he sat in the middle, when the pictures were taken. He dominated Winston Churchill more completely than before; Joseph Stalin was likewise prepared to heed Father's counsel, to accept Father's solutions."

The evidence in the documents shows that Stalin was a master of the situation and that the only one of the three who raised his voice in favor of the morality of Western civilization was Winston Churchill in his remarkable defense of free elections.

Admiral William D. Leahy seems to have been one of the very few men in public life, particularly among those who were close to President Roosevelt, who suffered misgivings. He said:

". . . The proposed peace seemed to me a frightening sowing of dragon's teeth that carried germs of an appalling war revenge at some time in the distant future. There was another compelling factor that kept me from sharing in the feeling of great hope, almost exultation that prevailed in our American delegation as we left Yalta: as to the practicability of maintaining world peace through the United Nations. The essential agreement to destroy German militarism accepted at the conference would make Russia the dominant power in Europe."

We now know from the contents of the documents that Winston Churchil could not at Yalta have believed what he said at the time:

"The impression that I brought back from the Crimea and from all my other contacts is that Marshal Stalin and the other Soviet leaders wish to live in honorable friendship and democracy with the Western democracies. . . ."

This must have been diplomacy rather than statesmanship speaking, for if any man suffered from a squeeze play it was Winston Churchill at Yalta who found himself between Roosevelt and Stalin. He was almost an unwanted middleman. In fact, Roosevelt occasionally indicated to Stalin that the British were a peculiar people who liked to have their cake and eat it too, thus giving Stalin a broad hint that he and Churchill were not a unit.

I can only add, to be impartial, that the Republican Senator from Vermont, Warren Austin, said of Yalta that "It's the answer to a prayer."

That Body of Yours

PAINS IN THE FACE

Pain in the face is a common complaint and fortunately it very often subsides by itself without any particular treatment. However, when it persists it may take a great deal of patience on the part of both patient and physician to find what is causing the trouble. For one thing there are so very many processes, joints, and organs in the head and face to be considered, any one of which may cause pain.

Dr. Michael Scott of Temple Medical School, Philadelphia, gives us an outline of the structures which may be involved in face pain:

1. Sinuses on either side of the nose, the nose, and adjoining structures.
2. The bony sockets containing the eyes.
3. Teeth, gums and throat.
4. Jaw bones and their joints.
5. The ear and the outer canal of the ear (auditory canal).
6. Saliva glands in the mouth.
7. The collection of nerves in the roof of the mouth.
8. Blood vessels of the face.
9. Large blood vessels in the neck.
10. Heart and large blood vessels in the chest.
11. Structures within the brain.

Thus we see that trying to find the cause of any pain in the face is apt to be quite a complicated business. However, there are certain clues which can be obtained by a patient's description of his pain which may help the physician decide just what structures are involved and what may be the cause. For example:

1. Sharp, stabbing, lightning like pains above the forehead or across upper or lower jaw suggests trigeminal neuralgia (tic doloreux).

2. Constant, deep, aching, boring and pressure pain in one place, if accompanied by tenderness, is common in sinus disease or in a local disease of the face structures. Sometimes the pressure sensation goes along with an anxiety state.

3. A throbbing pain which seems to accompany the pulse beat suggests an increased supply of the blood in the part, inflammation, or high blood pressure.

4. Burning pain can be present in irritated conditions of nerves and blood vessels.

5. Pain associated with a loss of sensation where it is located may be caused by a tumor.

6. Sudden, severe, constant pain in or behind one eyeball or above the eyebrow in the forehead, is a frequent symptom of bleeding in the brain from an aneurysm (enlarged blood vessel) in the brain.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Three times in recent days, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has gone out of his way to stress the danger of war over Formosa.

Returning from his trip to Southeast Asia, the secretary told his press conference: ". . . It would seem as though it was quite possible at least that the Chinese Communists do not intend to stop until it is apparent they are stopped by superior resistance."

In Ottawa he told the Canadian Parliament that he had returned from the Orient with a grave sense of foreboding. The Chinese Communists, he declared, were emotionally determined to drive the West out of Asia.

On his way back to Washington Secretary Dulles stopped in New York to receive an award from the Advertising Club. He said that "Chinese Communist methods may yet prove more dangerous and provocative of war" than the Russian, indirect methods of aggression.

Secretary Dulles concluded his New York speech by saying that, "With national unity under the calm and strong leadership of President Eisenhower, I remain hopeful that peace will prevail."

THIS ONE REASSURING UTTERANCE is overshadowed, however, by the three much more alarming warnings preceding. They may have been intended to make the Chinese Communist leaders stop and think before launching an attack on Quemoy and Matsu. But they equally served notice on the American people to be prepared for another war in the Far East.

From Dec. 8, 1954, when Red China's Premier Chou En-lai announced the Communists' intention to "liberate" Formosa and demanded that the United States withdraw its forces from the area, it has been evident that this could be the start of World War III.

The prospect of such a war has been consistently discounted in Washington up to now. It has been hoped that by some lucky break war could be avoided.

Continuing cold war and war of nerves have, of course, been expected. The possibility of stumbling into a limited war, by accidental incident, has been ever present. But a hot war was considered unlikely because it was felt that Red China and Russia did not want it and were not ready for it.

THE FACT THAT A HOT WAR has now become more likely, as evidenced by the three statements from Secretary Dulles, may alter a lot of things in Washington.

The domestic American political effect has to be considered. Up to now the Eisenhower administration has taken credit for ending the fighting in Korea. To have the fighting start up again in the Formosa straits would not be good.

The way things shape up now, the United States would have to go it alone in a Formosa war. Any reliance on even token help from the United Nations would be out.

The possibility of a new war with Red China over Formosa has revived in Washington the argument that the Korean war was a good place to wear down the Communists.

THE QUESTION OF whether a new Formosan war would result start the Korean war arises. It was only when the fighting in Korea stopped that Red China felt safe to concentrate on the conquest of Viet Nam. And as soon as the fighting stopped there, the Chinese Communists prepared for attack on Formosa.

There are sharply differing views on how a Formosa war might end. There is no great enthusiasm for such a war in the U. S. today.

One view is that the United States might stay out of such a war, just as Russia stayed out of the Korean war. The actual fighting would be left to Nationalist and Communist Chinese.

Another view is that by entering such a war and by the use of atomic weapons, the United States could force a decision within a few days—a few weeks—a few months.

The other extreme view is that the only way for the United States to avoid such a war is to pull the plug on the Chinese Nationalist cause and let it go down the drain.

Johnson Statement Hits at Exaggerations of Scientists to Prevent Use of A-Bomb

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 29—Governor Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, Democrat, was for ten years a member of the Atomic Energy Committee of the United States Senate and was, therefore able to learn a great deal about the super-bombs and their effects. He retired of his own volition last year. Recently he issued a statement to the press deploring the attempts on the part of certain scientists to exaggerate the effects of the atomic-bomb tests in Nevada. He said in part:

"It must be crystal clear to everyone now that the carefully planted 'fright campaign' launced by Drs. Lanier and Puck of Colorado University was merely part of the nationwide drive by American scientists against the use of atomic bombs.

"MANY OF US could and would share their opposition to these lethal destroyers were it not that the United States is in a desperate and deadly atomic race with ruthless Russia . . . Much as the United States would like to stop testing and improving atomic bombs, she dare not do so.

"We must not permit the defenses of this country to be weakened by wild and probably baseless speculation about the genetics of future generations. Unless American scientists remain way out in front of Russian atomic scientists, there will be no future generations of Americans.

"I am not accusing our Boulder (Colorado University) radiologists and their colleagues in other educational institutions in their fight against development of effective leathal weapons by the United States of being Fifth Columnists. But I do think their employing of 'fright strategy' to create public sentiment against the necessary testing of atomic bombs is most damaging to the defenses of the free world."

SHORTLY AFTER this statement was issued, Governor Johnson had occasion to answer a letter from Mrs. Connie Montfort of Denver, Colo., and the following extract from the governor's letter reveals further details about the "scarce story." Governor Johnson wrote:

"It seems to me the two university professors made a very grave and unnecessary mistake. This is what they did:

"On Friday they called a press conference and gave out a very frightening story to newspaper reporters about the dangers to the people of Denver of radiation caused by the Nevada atomic experiments. It was agreed that the story would not be published until the Sunday papers, March 13th...

"Why these professors did not take the matter up with the mayor of Denver or the governor of the state, or even the President of the United States, only they can explain. What did they expect the people of Denver to do? Hide in their basements and demand that the defense tests in Nevada be discontinued? The mayor, the governor, and the President have the responsibility of protecting the people and if there be danger, very quietly they should be alerted first.

"WHEN I WAS TOLD that they held their press conference on Friday and that they suggested it be published on Sunday, I said: 'If they know on Friday that the lives of the people of Denver are in danger on Friday and keep such facts under cover until Sunday, they ought to be arrested.'

As I see it, the real question here is: Shall the United States abandon the production, tactical development and improvement of atomic weapons, or shall we turn that field over exclusively to Soviet Russia?

"I am convinced also that upon the scientists of America depends our security and safety. The free world owes them a great debt of gratitude. To continue to protect us from our enemies, the universities and colleges must turn out scientists in ever-increasing numbers. They gave us the atomic bomb. They can protect us from harmful radiation. They have well-equipped laboratories in which to do these things.

"BUT, REMEMBER THIS, no true scientist leaves his laboratory to run to the press with an unproven supposition. The true scientist develops his theories patiently, quietly, thoroughly, through the relentless process of trial and error."

Governor Johnson's comments are in line with the information available here from official sources — namely, that the amount of radioactivity outside of the immediate testing area is negligible and cannot be regarded as having after-effect on future generations, as the propagandists are continually saying.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Tucson, Ariz., March 28—My contempt for the New York Times is one of the most enjoyable sensations in my experience, but those of my colleagues who have belittled the scoop that failed in the matter of the Yalta papers are arguing against old-fashioned git up and git. The same complaint was heard a few years ago when Arthur Krock, then head of the Times' Washington bureau, got an exclusive interview with Harry Truman, who snarled back with his irresistible charm that he would give his interviews to whomsoever he dam well wanted to. There are reports of skulduggery in the State Department, in spite of which, if such there was, the Times reporter who got the galley proof and had it exclusively for a time, deserves the same recognition that we gave the Cleveland hitter who slapped that long ball into the hands of Willie Mays. What was his name?

The Times is not one of the papers which have been clamoring for this further and redundant but pleasuring proof of Roosevelt's treachery. It will not enjoy the report and we may expect it to minimize the perfidy here disclosed. The thing to do now is to dig out the deleted parts, as John O'Donnell, of the New York News, already has done, in part, with a magnifying glass, and then ransack the records for more of the same. How many prisoners of war did Ike deliver to the Russians for massacre or slavery?

Elliott Roosevelt long ago divulged the repartee in which Roosevelt and Stalin talked of a massacre of 50,000 German staff officers. Elliott, a free-loader, loitered around one of the big souse-parties until he caught Stalin's eye and was invited to draw up a chair. Churchill, who had sent the black and tans to Ireland without a qualm, was horrified at the brutality of this proposal. He said the British would never be a party to such a slaughter. So Roosevelt, with his ever-ready fatuity, said all right, they would pare down the number to 49,999.

The frustration of the Times' coup by a process of inflation strikes a note reminiscent of the time that Roosevelt, Ickes and a select few others each got a sheet of unperforated three cent stamps from Jim Farley, knowing they had enormous value in the philatelic market. Jim said he didn't know that at the time. I believe Shamus because whatever your opinion of his career or his politics, larceny is out of his line. One of those who got a sheet could not resist the temptation to double-cross the rest so his little treasure bobbed up in Virginia. All philatelists are crazy, anyway, and the news of this set them to jabbering all over the country, with the result that Farley turned an embarrassment into a slight financial profit by printing thousands of imperforate sheets of the same stamp and selling them at face value to a lot of dopes who then had nothing but so many ordinary three-cent stamps. Of course, the original sheets still were rarities because they were autographed by all hands round and were distinguished by their scandalous history. Roosevelt's very own sheet with certified proof that this was the one by which he tried to graft $100,000 might be worth $100,000 still on that account. For that matter, Jim's might be a treasure, too.

I almost had an experience similar to that of the Times fellow in the case of Elliott's deadbeat loans from John Hartford of the A and P grocery chain and three others, including a Brooklyn clubhouse hanger-on named Charlie Harwood who thought he was putting up $25,000 as the price of a job as district judge of the United States court. My first tip came from William Griffin, a red-hot Hibernian who hated Britain and was indicted by the Cabal in the fake mass-sedition case for trying to compel Roosevelt to keep his promise not to send "your boys" to any foreign war. Griffin loathed Roosevelt with a passion that warmed his soul. So one night, in the Stork Club, he sent me word that Elliott had chiseled more than $300,000 from four individuals including $200,000 from Hartford. Our leader was still alive and I will ever regret my inability to stick the proof of his own part in this congame right down his gullet, but it was a long job. The break came when a friend of mine, who was close to Hartford told me to walk in on him because John was ready to talk, He was and he did.

Most of our press ignored it until finally Muley Doughton, the chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, had to call for an investigation, which took a suspicious course. The subcommittee did not hold any hearings or examine any witnesses. They had me winging because I am a shoe-leather and telephone reporter with no occult powers. I drove them crazy haunting the corridors and popping in to ask them what was doing.

Finally, they announced that they were going to issue a report tomorrow. So about noon I called on Doughton and some secretary handed me a skinny little document which was nothing but the majority report vindicating my leader as a man for the ages and his son as no crook and the minority version that it was a rotten scandal all the way. That was all there was.

But where were the questions and answers? Oh, that stuff had not been printed.

The Democrats decided to save a little money so they just prepared 12 or 14 sets of photostats for the press.

All right, where was my set? Oh, but I was too late. They had dumped them on a table in some room in the Capitol and called in some genial fellows friendly to the Roosevelt family. The photostats were all gone. Snatched up. You know — the early bird!

I was ready to end it all when Bill Hutchinson of the ins told me that the Democrats had not dared withhold it from the press associations.

So Bill let me have his and there, my friends, is a priceless record of the perfidy of a crooked president which is a historic treasure for the Westbrook Pegler memorial library, thanks to the martyr Bill Griffin, who went through hell on earth for Ireland.

Elliott Roosevelt, in his book, "As He Saw it," gives us this:

"Harry Hopkins is my witness for the statement that the unity of Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt was a firmer and more tangible thing at Yalta than at Teheran. And it was evident that Father's role, even more than at earlier conferences, was that of leader. It is not by chance that he sat in the middle, when the pictures were taken. He dominated Winston Churchill more completely than before; Joseph Stalin was likewise prepared to heed Father's counsel, to accept Father's solutions."

The evidence in the documents shows that Stalin was a master of the situation and that the only one of the three who raised his voice in favor of the morality of Western civilization was Winston Churchill in his remarkable defense of free elections.

Admiral William D. Leahy seems to have been one of the very few men in public life, particularly among those who were close to President Roosevelt, who suffered misgivings. He said:

". . . The proposed peace seemed to me a frightening sowing of dragon's teeth that carried germs of an appalling war revenge at some time in the distant future. There was another compelling factor that kept me from sharing in the feeling of great hope, almost exultation that prevailed in our American delegation as we left Yalta: as to the practicability of maintaining world peace through the United Nations. The essential agreement to destroy German militarism accepted at the conference would make Russia the dominant power in Europe."

We now know from the contents of the documents that Winston Churchil could not at Yalta have believed what he said at the time:

"The impression that I brought back from the Crimea and from all my other contacts is that Marshal Stalin and the other Soviet leaders wish to live in honorable friendship and democracy with the Western democracies. . . ."

This must have been diplomacy rather than statesmanship speaking, for if any man suffered from a squeeze play it was Winston Churchill at Yalta who found himself between Roosevelt and Stalin. He was almost an unwanted middleman. In fact, Roosevelt occasionally indicated to Stalin that the British were a peculiar people who liked to have their cake and eat it too, thus giving Stalin a broad hint that he and Churchill were not a unit.

I can only add, to be impartial, that the Republican Senator from Vermont, Warren Austin, said of Yalta that "It's the answer to a prayer."

PAINS IN THE FACE

Pain in the face is a common complaint and fortunately it very often subsides by itself without any particular treatment. However, when it persists it may take a great deal of patience on the part of both patient and physician to find what is causing the trouble. For one thing there are so very many processes, joints, and organs in the head and face to be considered, any one of which may cause pain.

Dr. Michael Scott of Temple Medical School, Philadelphia, gives us an outline of the structures which may be involved in face pain:

1. Sinuses on either side of the nose, the nose, and adjoining structures.
2. The bony sockets containing the eyes.
3. Teeth, gums and throat.
4. Jaw bones and their joints.
5. The ear and the outer canal of the ear (auditory canal).
6. Saliva glands in the mouth.
7. The collection of nerves in the roof of the mouth.
8. Blood vessels of the face.
9. Large blood vessels in the neck.
10. Heart and large blood vessels in the chest.
11. Structures within the brain.

Thus we see that trying to find the cause of any pain in the face is apt to be quite a complicated business. However, there are certain clues which can be obtained by a patient's description of his pain which may help the physician decide just what structures are involved and what may be the cause. For example:

1. Sharp, stabbing, lightning like pains above the forehead or across upper or lower jaw suggests trigeminal neuralgia (tic doloreux).

2. Constant, deep, aching, boring and pressure pain in one place, if accompanied by tenderness, is common in sinus disease or in a local disease of the face structures. Sometimes the pressure sensation goes along with an anxiety state.

3. A throbbing pain which seems to accompany the pulse beat suggests an increased supply of the blood in the part, inflammation, or high blood pressure.

4. Burning pain can be present in irritated conditions of nerves and blood vessels.

5. Pain associated with a loss of sensation where it is located may be caused by a tumor.

6. Sudden, severe, constant pain in or behind one eyeball or above the eyebrow in the forehead, is a frequent symptom of bleeding in the brain from an aneurysm (enlarged blood vessel) in the brain.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Three times in recent days, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has gone out of his way to stress the danger of war over Formosa.

Returning from his trip to Southeast Asia, the secretary told his press conference: ". . . It would seem as though it was quite possible at least that the Chinese Communists do not intend to stop until it is apparent they are stopped by superior resistance."

In Ottawa he told the Canadian Parliament that he had returned from the Orient with a grave sense of foreboding. The Chinese Communists, he declared, were emotionally determined to drive the West out of Asia.

On his way back to Washington Secretary Dulles stopped in New York to receive an award from the Advertising Club. He said that "Chinese Communist methods may yet prove more dangerous and provocative of war" than the Russian, indirect methods of aggression.

Secretary Dulles concluded his New York speech by saying that, "With national unity under the calm and strong leadership of President Eisenhower, I remain hopeful that peace will prevail."

THIS ONE REASSURING UTTERANCE is overshadowed, however, by the three much more alarming warnings preceding. They may have been intended to make the Chinese Communist leaders stop and think before launching an attack on Quemoy and Matsu. But they equally served notice on the American people to be prepared for another war in the Far East.

From Dec. 8, 1954, when Red China's Premier Chou En-lai announced the Communists' intention to "liberate" Formosa and demanded that the United States withdraw its forces from the area, it has been evident that this could be the start of World War III.

The prospect of such a war has been consistently discounted in Washington up to now. It has been hoped that by some lucky break war could be avoided.

Continuing cold war and war of nerves have, of course, been expected. The possibility of stumbling into a limited war, by accidental incident, has been ever present. But a hot war was considered unlikely because it was felt that Red China and Russia did not want it and were not ready for it.

THE FACT THAT A HOT WAR has now become more likely, as evidenced by the three statements from Secretary Dulles, may alter a lot of things in Washington.

The domestic American political effect has to be considered. Up to now the Eisenhower administration has taken credit for ending the fighting in Korea. To have the fighting start up again in the Formosa straits would not be good.

The way things shape up now, the United States would have to go it alone in a Formosa war. Any reliance on even token help from the United Nations would be out.

The possibility of a new war with Red China over Formosa has revived in Washington the argument that the Korean war was a good place to wear down the Communists.

THE QUESTION OF whether a new Formosan war would start the Korean war arises. It was only when the fighting in Korea stopped that Red China felt safe to concentrate on the conquest of Viet Nam. And as soon as the fighting stopped there, the Chinese Communists prepared for attack on Formosa.

There are sharply differing views on how a Formosa war might end. There is no great enthusiasm for such a war in the U. S. today.

One view is that the United States might stay out of such a war, just as Russia stayed out of the Korean war. The actual fighting would be left to Nationalist and Communist Chinese.

Another view is that by entering such a war and by the use of atomic weapons, the United States could force a decision within a few days—a few weeks—a few months.

The other extreme view is that the only way for the United States to avoid such a war is to pull the plug on the Chinese Nationalist cause and let it go down the drain.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 29—Governor Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, Democrat, was for ten years a member of the Atomic Energy Committee of the United States Senate and was, therefore able to learn a great deal about the super-bombs and their effects. He retired of his own volition last year. Recently he issued a statement to the press deploring the attempts on the part of certain scientists to exaggerate the effects of the atomic-bomb tests in Nevada. He said in part:

"It must be crystal clear to everyone now that the carefully planted 'fright campaign' launced by Drs. Lanier and Puck of Colorado University was merely part of the nationwide drive by American scientists against the use of atomic bombs.

"MANY OF US could and would share their opposition to these lethal destroyers were it not that the United States is in a desperate and deadly atomic race with ruthless Russia . . . Much as the United States would like to stop testing and improving atomic bombs, she dare not do so.

"We must not permit the defenses of this country to be weakened by wild and probably baseless speculation about the genetics of future generations. Unless American scientists remain way out in front of Russian atomic scientists, there will be no future generations of Americans.

"I am not accusing our Boulder (Colorado University) radiologists and their colleagues in other educational institutions in their fight against development of effective leathal weapons by the United States of being Fifth Columnists. But I do think their employing of 'fright strategy' to create public sentiment against the necessary testing of atomic bombs is most damaging to the defenses of the free world."

SHORTLY AFTER this statement was issued, Governor Johnson had occasion to answer a letter from Mrs. Connie Montfort of Denver, Colo., and the following extract from the governor's letter reveals further details about the "scarce story." Governor Johnson wrote:

"It seems to me the two university professors made a very grave and unnecessary mistake. This is what they did:

"On Friday they called a press conference and gave out a very frightening story to newspaper reporters about the dangers to the people of Denver of radiation caused by the Nevada atomic experiments. It was agreed that the story would not be published until the Sunday papers, March 13th...

"Why these professors did not take the matter up with the mayor of Denver or the governor of the state, or even the President of the United States, only they can explain. What did they expect the people of Denver to do? Hide in their basements and demand that the defense tests in Nevada be discontinued? The mayor, the governor, and the President have the responsibility of protecting the people and if there be danger, very quietly they should be alerted first.

"WHEN I WAS TOLD that they held their press conference on Friday and that they suggested it be published on Sunday, I said: 'If they know on Friday that the lives of the people of Denver are in danger on Friday and keep such facts under cover until Sunday, they ought to be arrested.'

As I see it, the real question here is: Shall the United States abandon the production, tactical development and improvement of atomic weapons, or shall we turn that field over exclusively to Soviet Russia?

"I am convinced also that upon the scientists of America depends our security and safety. The free world owes them a great debt of gratitude. To continue to protect us from our enemies, the universities and colleges must turn out scientists in ever-increasing numbers. They gave us the atomic bomb. They can protect us from harmful radiation. They have well-equipped laboratories in which to do these things.

"BUT, REMEMBER THIS, no true scientist leaves his laboratory to run to the press with an unproven supposition. The true scientist develops his theories patiently, quietly, thoroughly, through the relentless process of trial and error."

Governor Johnson's comments are in line with the information available here from official sources — namely, that the amount of radioactivity outside of the immediate testing area is negligible and cannot be regarded as having after-effect on future generations, as the propagandists are continually saying.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Tucson, Ariz., March 28—My contempt for the New York Times is one of the most enjoyable sensations in my experience, but those of my colleagues who have belittled the scoop that failed in the matter of the Yalta papers are arguing against old-fashioned git up and git. The same complaint was heard a few years ago when Arthur Krock, then head of the Times' Washington bureau, got an exclusive interview with Harry Truman, who snarled back with his irresistible charm that he would give his interviews to whomsoever he dam well wanted to. There are reports of skulduggery in the State Department, in spite of which, if such there was, the Times reporter who got the galley proof and had it exclusively for a time, deserves the same recognition that we gave the Cleveland hitter who slapped that long ball into the hands of Willie Mays. What was his name?

The Times is not one of the papers which have been clamoring for this further and redundant but pleasuring proof of Roosevelt's treachery. It will not enjoy the report and we may expect it to minimize the perfidy here disclosed. The thing to do now is to dig out the deleted parts, as John O'Donnell, of the New York News, already has done, in part, with a magnifying glass, and then ransack the records for more of the same. How many prisoners of war did Ike deliver to the Russians for massacre or slavery?

Elliott Roosevelt long ago divulged the repartee in which Roosevelt and Stalin talked of a massacre of 50,000 German staff officers. Elliott, a freeloader, loitered around one of the big souse-parties until he caught Stalin's eye and was invited to draw up a chair. Churchill, who had sent the black and tans to Ireland without a qualm, was horrified at the brutality of this proposal. He said the British would never be a party to such a slaughter. So Roosevelt, with his ever-ready fatuity, said all right, they would pare down the number to 49,999.

The frustration of the Times' coup by a process of inflation strikes a note reminiscent of the time that Roosevelt, Ickes and a select few others each got a sheet of unperforated three cent stamps from Jim Farley, knowing they had enormous value in the philatelic market. Jim said he didn't know that at the time. I believe Shamus because whatever your opinion of his career or his politics, larceny is out of his line. One of those who got a sheet could not resist the temptation to double-cross the rest so his little treasure bobbed up in Virginia. All philatelists are crazy, anyway, and the news of this set them to jabbering all over the country, with the result that Farley turned an embarrassment into a slight financial profit by printing thousands of imperforate sheets of the same stamp and selling them at face value to a lot of dopes who then had nothing but so many ordinary three-cent stamps. Of course, the original sheets still were rarities because they were autographed by all hands round and were distinguished by their scandalous history. Roosevelt's very own sheet with certified proof that this was the one by which he tried to graft $100,000 might be worth $100,000 still on that account. For that matter, Jim's might be a treasure, too.

I almost had an experience similar to that of the Times fellow in the case of Elliott's deadbeat loans from John Hartford of the A and P grocery chain and three others, including a Brooklyn clubhouse hanger-on named Charlie Harwood who thought he was putting up $25,000 as the price of a job as district judge of the United States court. My first tip came from William Griffin, a red-hot Hibernian who hated Britain and was indicted by the Cabal in the fake mass-sedition case for trying to compel Roosevelt to keep his promise not to send "your boys" to any foreign war. Griffin loathed Roosevelt with a passion that warmed his soul. So one night, in the Stork Club, he sent me word that Elliott had chiseled more than $300,000 from four individuals including $200,000 from Hartford. Our leader was still alive and I will ever regret my inability to stick the proof of his own part in this con-game right down his gullet, but it was a long job. The break came when a friend of mine who was close to Hartford told me to walk in on him because John was ready to talk, He was and he did.

Most of our press ignored it until finally Muley Doughton, the chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, had to call for an investigation, which took a suspicious course. The subcommittee did not hold any hearings or examine any witnesses. They had me winging because I am a shoe-leather and telephone reporter with no occult powers. I drove them crazy haunting the corridors and popping in to ask them what was doing.

Finally, they announced that they were going to issue a report tomorrow. So about noon I called on Doughton and some secretary handed me a skinny little document which was nothing but the majority report vindicating my leader as a man for the ages and his son as no crook and the minority version that it was a rotten scandal all the way. That was all there was.

But where were the questions and answers? Oh, that stuff had not been printed.

The Democrats decided to save a little money so they just prepared 12 or 14 sets of photostats for the press.

All right, where was my set? Oh, but I was too late. They had dumped them on a table in some room in the Capitol and called in some genial fellows friendly to the Roosevelt family. The photostats were all gone. Snatched up. You know — the early bird!

I was ready to end it all when Bill Hutchinson of the ins told me that the Democrats had not dared withhold it from the press associations.

So Bill let me have his and there, my friends, is a priceless record of the perfidy of a crooked president which is a historic treasure for the Westbrook Pegler memorial library, thanks to the martyr Bill Griffin, who went through hell on earth for Ireland.

Should you buy stocks and forget about them?

Question by Gus Burkhardt, cost analyst, South Norwalk, Conn.

Stock in the "XYZ Buggy-whip Company" may have been a good buy once, but you probably wouldn't get much for it today. However, many companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange are prospering now because of products that weren't even the gleam in a scientist's eye a few years ago. That's why investments in stocks should be reviewed from time to time, as you'd review any other sort of investment.

The Atomic Future: 1

(How far away is the day the atom will come into your living room? This giant is just waiting to be put to work, but getting it harnessed poses many problems for private industry. This article, first in a series of four, tells you why.)

BY RELMAN MORIN

Washington, March 29 (AP) — The wonderful world of the atom lies close at hand. In that world—

When your automobile frets and sputters, you will have the motor "X-Rayed" instead of torn down. Pictures of its insides, taken with cobalt, 60, will locate the trouble.

Your home, of course, will be lighted with energy taken from a nuclear reactor. And you will ride on trains and ships powered by the atom.

It will purify seawater and carry the water across mountains to the desert.

IN FACTORIES, radioactive bracelets will guard the worker against mangling by dangerous machines. If the jaws of the machine come too close to his hand, radiation from the bracelets agitate a geiger counter. It instantly stops the machine.

Buck Rogers stuff?

No, indeed. Some of these things already are here. Others, many others, are beyond the experimental stage.

Then, does this mean that the Atomic Age finally has flowered for peaceful instead of military purposes?

Well, yes and no.

Last month, a congressional committee questioned many witnesses — businessmen, engineers, patent lawyers, labor leaders, experts of the Atomic Energy Commission—in a long series of hearings. They all attacked this problem:

"How to harness atomic energy, on a grand scale, to enhance the living standard of every American."

And here is the atom, the tamed giant, waiting to work. One pound of fissionable uranium equals, in releasable energy, 2,600,000 pounds of coal.

Yet, the United States is not generating commercial electricity from the atom. "Fossil fuels," coal, gas and oil, are still the main sources of energy. How long will they last? Geologists disagree. The profusion of benefits from the atom are visible on the horizon, but not yet attained.

HENCE, THE IMPATIENCE. Each witness was asked, in effect, "what's holding us up? When are we going to get the show on the road?"

A year ago, and even later, there was a simple answer—"government."

The 12-billion-dollar atomic empire was the exclusive property of the U. S. Government. That meant installations, reactors, materials, and—most important—the knowledge necessary to use them. All this was a government preserve.

The reason, of course, was national security.

But as time passed, it became apparent that other nations, friends and enemies, were acquiring a vast fund of knowledge about the atom. Some American scientists say the Europeans already know as much, possibly more, about peaceful uses than we do.

Moreover, for years, there has been a feeling in Washington that if atomic energy is to be fully applied to ordinary living, American industry must come in, and on a big scale.

SO, LAST FALL, Congress passed a brand new atomic energy act. In philosophy, it is very different from the old law. It provides, principally, for two new approaches:

1. Opening the door—part way — for private industry to use and develop atomic energy.

2. Greater cooperation with other nations in the peaceful uses of the atom.

Analysts of the new law, notably Everett L. Hollis of General Electric, emphasize that it "reduces," but does not end, government monopoly. The AEC retains wide controls. Hollis sees the new pattern as a team effort between government and industry.

As an example, the Duquesne Light Co. and the AEC are jointly building nuclear electric plants at Shippingport, Pa.

THE AEC IS PUSHING a five-year program of reactor research. Out of some 80 types of reactors, it selected five to build and operate. Cost: 199 million dollars. Object: To determine operating costs, output, efficiency of the different reactors, improve safety devices, and so on. The information will be available to private industry.

Two utilities, Detroit Edison and Consolidated Edison, have announced plans to build nuclear plants for electricity in Michigan and New York.

A reactor-building firm, Babcock and Wilcox, announced plans to build a plant at Lynchburg, Va. It will sell the equipment to foreign as well as American customers.

And the atomic industrial forum already is operating in New York. It is a nonprofit organization, designed as a clearing house for information on industrial studies of the atom.

Industry stands on the threshold. What lies ahead? A glittering vista—and a fantastic set of new problems.

Tomorrow: Barriers to the atom.

Byrd to Make His Fifth Visit

Washington, March 29 (AP)— Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd will make his fifth visit to the antarctic later this year as head of a U. S. scientific expedition.

The expedition, announced late yesterday by the White House, will get underway in November and continue into 1957.

The navy is organizing the trip. The purpose is to set up scientific observation sites for use in the international geophysical year, 1957-58. During that period, scientists from many countries have agreed to conduct simultaneous studies in the earth sciences.

BYRD, WHO WAS officially retired as a junior officer in 1916, will be called back to active duty as "officer-in-charge" of the expedition. The task force commander will be Capt. George Dufek, a veteran of two previous expeditions to the antarctic with Byrd in 1939-41 and 1946-47. Dufek will be responsible for the conduct of the expedition, the navy said. Byrd will serve principally as an advisor.

Expedition plans call for the establishment early in 1956 of a main operating station in Little America, scene of Byrd's previous explorations. Two other observation stations will be built, one as near to the south pole as the expedition can get it. The stations will be established and maintained by air.

Byrd's first visit to the south polar region was made in the winter of 1928-29. He later went to the antarctic in 1933-1935 and completed an expedition shortly before the outbreak of World War 2.

When he starts on his next expedition he will be 67. His task force commander, Capt. Dufek, is 52.

Man, 30, Faces Homicide Charge

New York, March 29 (AP)— Police have charged 30-year-old Louis Battice with homicide in the shooting of a man recently paroled from Rikers Island penitentiary.

Killed early Sunday in his Bronx apartment was Robert Cannado, 36. His wife told police she was awakened by the sound of voices, saw a dark figure push her husband, heard a shot and then saw her husband collapse across the bed.

In announcing the arrest last night, police Inspector John Halk said Battice, a Negro leather worker, had been seeing Cannado's wife while Cannado was in the penitentiary for burglary. The Cannados are white.

Halk said Battice was picked up after investigators questioned nearly 30 persons who knew the Cannados.

Should you buy stocks and forget about them?

Question by Gus Burkhardt, cost analyst, South Norwalk, Conn.

Stock in the "XYZ Buggy-whip Company" may have been a good buy once, but you probably wouldn't get much for it today. However, many companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange are prospering now because of products that weren't even the gleam in a scientist's eye a few years ago. That's why investments in stocks should be reviewed from time to time, as you'd review any other sort of investment.

Do I have to be a financial expert to own stocks?

Few people have time to become experts. But it's easy to get expert help from a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. To invest on a sound basis, you should have first some insurance and money for emergencies. Then you should investigate before you invest. Member Firms will be glad to give you facts about any of the 1,526 common and preferred stocks and 840 corporate bonds on the Exchange, and there's no charge for this information. The Atomic Future: 1

(How far away is the day the atom will come into your living room? This giant is just waiting to be put to work, but getting it harnessed poses many problems for private industry. This article, first in a series of four, tells you why.)

BY RELMAN MORIN

Washington, March 29 (AP) — The wonderful world of the atom lies close at hand. In that world—

When your automobile frets and sputters, you will have the motor "X-Rayed" instead of torn down. Pictures of its insides, taken with cobalt, 60, will locate the trouble.

Your home, of course, will be lighted with energy taken from a nuclear reactor. And you will ride on trains and ships powered by the atom.

It will purify seawater and carry the water across mountains to the desert.

IN FACTORIES, radioactive bracelets will guard the worker against mangling by dangerous machines. If the jaws of the machine come too close to his hand, radiation from the bracelets agitate a geiger counter. It instantly stops the machine.

Buck Rogers stuff?

No, indeed. Some of these things already are here. Others, many others, are beyond the experimental stage.

Then, does this mean that the Atomic Age finally has flowered for peaceful instead of military purposes?

Well, yes and no.

Last month, a congressional committee questioned many witnesses — businessmen, engineers, patent lawyers, labor leaders, experts of the Atomic Energy Commission—in a long series of hearings. They all attacked this problem:

"How to harness atomic energy, on a grand scale, to enhance the living standard of every American."

A BRIGHT-RED THREAD of impatience, almost frustration, ran through the hearings.

And here is the atom, the tamed giant, waiting to work. One pound of fissionable uranium equals, in releasable energy, 2,600,000 pounds of coal.

Yet, the United States is not generating commercial electricity from the atom. "Fossil fuels," coal, gas and oil, are still the main sources of energy. How long will they last? Geologists disagree. The profusion of benefits from the atom are visible on the horizon, but not yet attained.

HENCE, THE IMPATIENCE. Each witness was asked, in effect, "what's holding us up? When are we going to get the show on the road?"

A year ago, and even later, there was a simple answer—"government."

The 12-billion-dollar atomic empire was the exclusive property of the U. S. Government. That meant installations, reactors, materials, and—most important—the knowledge necessary to use them. All this was a government preserve.

The reason, of course, was national security.

But as time passed, it became apparent that other nations, friends and enemies, were acquiring a vast fund of knowledge about the atom. Some American scientists say the Europeans already know as much, possibly more, about peaceful uses than we do.

Moreover, for years, there has been a feeling in Washington that if atomic energy is to be fully applied to ordinary living, American industry must come in, and on a big scale.

SO, LAST FALL, Congress passed a brand new atomic energy act. In philosophy, it is very different from the old law. It provides, principally, for two new approaches:

1. Opening the door—part way — for private industry to use and develop atomic energy.

2. Greater cooperation with other nations in the peaceful uses of the atom.

Analysts of the new law, notably Everett L. Hollis of General Electric, emphasize that it "reduces," but does not end, government monopoly. The AEC retains wide controls. Hollis sees the new pattern as a team effort between government and industry.

As an example, the Duquesne Light Co. and the AEC are jointly building nuclear electric plants at Shippingport, Pa.

THE AEC IS PUSHING a five-year program of reactor research. Out of some 80 types of reactors, it selected five to build and operate. Cost: 199 million dollars. Object: To determine operating costs, output, efficiency of the different reactors, improve safety devices, and so on. The information will be available to private industry.

Two utilities, Detroit Edison and Consolidated Edison, have announced plans to build nuclear plants for electricity in Michigan and New York.

A reactor-building firm, Babcock and Wilcox, announced plans to build a plant at Lynchburg, Va. It will sell the equipment to foreign as well as American customers.

And the atomic industrial forum already is operating in New York. It is a nonprofit organization, designed as a clearing house for information on industrial studies of the atom.

Industry stands on the threshold. What lies ahead? A glittering vista—and a fantastic set of new problems.

Tomorrow: Barriers to the atom.

Byrd to Make His Fifth Visit

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd will make his fifth visit to the antarctic later this year as head of a U. S. scientific expedition.

The expedition, announced late yesterday by the White House, will get underway in November and continue into 1957.

The navy is organizing the trip. The purpose is to set up scientific observation sites for use in the international geophysical year, 1957-58. During that period, scientists from many countries have agreed to conduct simultaneous studies in the earth sciences.

BYRD, WHO WAS officially retired as a junior officer in 1916, will be called back to active duty as "officer-in-charge" of the expedition. The task force commander will be Capt. George Dufek, a veteran of two previous expeditions to the antarctic with Byrd in 1939-41 and 1946-47. Dufek will be responsible for the conduct of the expedition, the navy said. Byrd will serve principally as an advisor.

Expedition plans call for the establishment early in 1956 of a main operating station in Little America, scene of Byrd's previous explorations. Two other observation stations will be built, one as near to the south pole as the expedition can get it. The stations will be established and maintained by air.

Byrd's first visit to the south polar region was made in the winter of 1928-29. He later went to the antarctic in 1933-1935 and completed an expedition shortly before the outbreak of World War 2.

When he starts on his next expedition he will be 67. His task force commander, Capt. Dufek, is 52.

Man, 30, Faces Homicide Charge

New York, March 29 (AP)—Police have charged 30-year-old Louis Battice with homicide in the shooting of a man recently paroled from Rikers Island penitentiary.

Killed early Sunday in his Bronx apartment was Robert Cannado, 36. His wife told police she was awakened by the sound of voices, saw a dark figure push her husband, heard a shot and then saw her husband collapse across the bed.

In announcing the arrest last night, police Inspector John Halk said Battice, a Negro leather worker, had been seeing Cannado's wife while Cannado was in the penitentiary for burglary. The Cannados are white.

Halk said Battice was picked up after investigators questioned nearly 30 persons who knew the Cannados.

Care of Diamonds Is Problem Here

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The main problem in the play of today's hand is the correct handling of the diamonds. This is no problem at all if you can see all of the cards, so put yourself into declarer's place. You see only your own hand and the dummy.

Whatever happens, you will need at least two clubs. You decide to win the first trick in dummy in order to take a club finesse at once. The result of the finesse may, after all, have some effect on how you will play the diamonds.

The club finesse loses, and West returns another spade. You win the spade return in either hand and wonder how to go about winning all five diamond tricks.

Each opponent is equally likely to have the queen of diamonds. If you needed only three diamond tricks you could toss a coin in order to choose the "correct" way to finesse against the queen.

If you could be sure that the missing diamonds were divided 3-2, you could finesse in either direction for the queen. Only one direction would win, of course, but you would have an even chance to guess right.

The fact is, however, that the diamonds may well be divided 4-1. If West happens to have Q-9-x-x, you cannot prevent him from winning a diamond trick. But if East happens to have these same cards, you can win all five diamond tricks.

This persuades you to play East for the diamonds. The chance is even that East has the queen; and your play will work if East has from one to four diamonds that include the queen. This is better than playing West for the queen, for your chance would still be only even and would work only if West had from one to three diamonds.

You begin the diamonds by taking the king and then lead the ten. If East covers with the ace and return to dummy to take another finesse through the nine of diamonds. This line of play brings the slam safely home.

To Celebrate Jewish History Week in April

Dr. Solomon Grayzel, corresponding secretary of the American Jewish Historical Society and chairman of its Jewish History Week Committee, announced today that Jewish History Week 1955 will be celebrated from April 17 to 23, the week after Passover.

"The American Jewish community of five million people, having lived for three hundred years under freedom, has become aware of its unique destiny. The thrilling saga of American Jewish history, revitalized in this tercentenary year, must be kept alive for this generation and those to come," Dr. Grayzel stated. "The American Jewish Historical Society, which for 63 years has gathered priceless manuscripts, paintings and letters and has published fifty volumes, is prepared to serve the entire Jewish community in fostering the interest in our historical heritage. The assistance our society can give is essential not only to scholars and students but likewise to all who seek to learn how this community has creatively shared and participated in the development of American democracy."

Congregations, schools and community centers will observe Jewish History Week through exhibits and assemblies, radio and TV programs. The general and Jewish press will feature the event in special articles. Detailed information can be obtained from the American Jewish Historical Society, 3080 Broadway, New York 27, N. Y.

Separate Coverage Now Required for Damage to Aerials

The State Insurance Department has approved a new regulation pertaining to insurance of outside aerials against hazards of windstorm and hail.

It is no longer possible to include such coverage under either dwelling or household furniture insurance, James A. Hanstein, president of the Ulster County Insurance Agents' Association, explained. The new regulation became effective March 21 on new and renewal policies written after that date.

Persons owning an outside TV aerial and wish insurance against hail and wind must secure a separate specific insurance which will cost $7.50 per $100 for three years with $50 deductible or $12.50 per $100 for three years with full coverage.

The mandatory insurance coverage must be 80 per cent of the value of the antenna in order to recover full benefit in case of damage.

The new provision will not affect policies now in effect and written prior to March 21.

The main problem in the play of today's hand is the correct handling of the diamonds. This is no problem at all if you can see all of the cards, so put yourself into declarer's place. You see only your own hand and the dummy.

Whatever happens, you will need at least two clubs. You decide to win the first trick in dummy in order to take a club finesse at once. The result of the finesse may, after all, have some effect on how you will play the diamonds.

The club finesse loses, and West returns another spade. You win the spade return in either hand and wonder how to go about winning all five diamond tricks.

Each opponent is equally likely to have the queen of diamonds. If you needed only three diamond tricks you could toss a coin in order to choose the "correct" way to finesse against the queen.

If you could be sure that the missing diamonds were divided 3-2, you could finesse in either direction for the queen. Only one direction would win, of course, but you would have an even chance to guess right.

The fact is, however, that the diamonds may well be divided 4-1. If West happens to have Q-9-x-x, you cannot prevent him from winning a diamond trick. But if East happens to have these same cards, you can win all five diamond tricks.

This persuades you to play East for the diamonds. The chance is even that East has the queen; and your play will work if East has from one to four diamonds that include the queen. This is better than playing West for the queen, for your chance would still be only even and would work only if West had from one to three diamonds.

You begin the diamonds by taking the king and then lead the ten. If East covers with the queen, you win with the ace and return to dummy to take another finesse through the nine of diamonds. This line of play brings the slam safely home.

To Celebrate Jewish History Week in April

Dr. Solomon Grayzel, corresponding secretary of the American Jewish Historical Society and chairman of its Jewish History Week Committee, announced today that Jewish History Week 1955 will be celebrated from April 17 to 23, the week after Passover.

"The American Jewish community of five million people, having lived for three hundred years under freedom, has become aware of its unique destiny. The thrilling saga of American Jewish history, revitalized in this tercentenary year, must be kept alive for this generation and those to come," Dr. Grayzel stated. "The American Jewish Historical Society, which for 63 years has gathered priceless manuscripts, paintings and letters and has published fifty volumes, is prepared to serve the entire Jewish community in fostering the interest in our historical heritage. The assistance our society can give is essential not only to scholars and students but likewise to all who seek to learn how this community has creatively shared and participated in the development of American democracy."

Congregations, schools and community centers will observe Jewish History Week through exhibits and assemblies, radio and TV programs. The general and Jewish press will feature the event in special articles. Detailed information can be obtained from the American Jewish Historical Society, 3080 Broadway, New York 27, N. Y.

Separate Coverage Now Required for Damage to Aerials

The State Insurance Department has approved a new regulation pertaining to insurance of outside aerials against hazards of windstorm and hail.

It is no longer possible to include such coverage under either dwelling or household furniture insurance, James A. Hanstein, president of the Ulster County Insurance Agents' Association, explained. The new regulation became effective March 21 on new and renewal policies written after that date.

Persons owning an outside TV aerial and wish insurance against hail and wind must secure a separate specific insurance which will cost $7.50 per $100 for three years with $50 deductible or $12.50 per $100 for three years with full coverage.

The mandatory insurance coverage must be 80 per cent of the value of the antenna in order to recover full benefit in case of damage.

The new provision will not affect policies now in effect and written prior to March 21.

Society Purchases Hugo Freer House

New Paltz, March 28 — The Hugo Freer house on Huguenot street, built in 1709, has been purchased by the Huguenot Historical Society of New Paltz from the Rev. John W. Follette.

The Rev. Mr. Follette purchased the property from the late Margaret A. Jamison about 1946. The interior has been renovated, modern facilities introduced without losing the authentic historic value of the house. It is considered a gem, with a historic background of more than 200 years.

The Rev. Mr. Follette, a descendant of the early patentees who built the house, always had a sentimental feeling for the property and has been generous in making the sale to the society, it was explained. The society now enters into the fulfillment of an objective which all interested in New Paltz and its historic background have long had in mind: To bring under one ownership the stone houses which are priceless historically in order that they may be preserved as monuments of the early pioneers and the independent spirit of those who came to the United States in search of freedom.

THE TOWN of New Paltz was founded by French Huguenots in 1678. Their first homes were low cabins but by 1692 they had begun to build the stone houses that still stand and are being used as private residences. The house built by Jean Hasbrouck has been the property of the society since 1899. The Bevier-Elting house is owned by a corporation consisting of members of the Elting family. The trustees of the Huguenot Society decided that it would not be wise to permit the Freer house to go into private hands again. They have undertaken a project that will require the help of not only the Freer and Low descendants but all those interested in the preservation of the American heritage.

Due to the large sum involved, the society will rent the house. Definite plans for the future use of the house have not been made. All members of the Freer and Low families have been especially urged to assist in raising the funds to clear the Freer homestead of the debts assumed by the society in its purchase. Persons interested are asked to send a donation.

THE TRUSTEES of the society seek to make this house, the Freer family homestead, truly a Freer and Low Memorial under the guardianship of the society, it was said. Rebecca Freer, daughter of Hugo Freer the second, married Johannis Low and resided in the house.

The Huguenot Society is fulfilling its purpose in purchasing the old stone houses, it was pointed out. Questions concerning the Freer house and financial arrangements may be addressed to Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, secretary of the society. He will also receive contributions. All funds received will be used immediately to lower the amount of indebterness, it was said.

This expression probably came into use from Freemasonry, but today it is usually used to denote rough treatment by the police. To the police, the first degree is the arrest, the second degree confinement and the third degree violent questioning.

Carve Easter Turkey in Kitchen for Easier Service

By GAYNOR MADDIX
NEA Foods and Market Editor

If you carve your Easter turkey in the kitchen and then reassemble it on a platter for dining room service, things will be pleasantly simplified.

This is how you can do it.

1. Roast turkey in usual manner, planning roasting schedule so that turkey is done about ½ hour before dinner is to be served.

2. Remove any skewers and cord used in trussing, then place turkey on cutting board.

3. Remove wings, making a circular cut around the wing joint. If desired, cut off wing tip from each wing.

4. Remove legs: Cut through skin between body and leg. Press leg away from body, with flat side of knife, down to cutting board. Cut through joint holding leg to back and skin on the back.

5. Divide each leg into the drumstick and thigh (or second joint) pieces.

6. Separate breast section from back section: Insert knife blade into wing-joint opening (made by removing wing). Cut outward through cartilage in the ribs to the abdominal or cavity opening. Repeat on other side. Grasp end of breast (point of keel) firmly in one hand and hold back down firmly to cutting board with other hand. Pull breast section up and over, away from the back, until shoulder joints break. It may be necessary to use knife to cut these joints.

7. Loosen breast meat from each side of breastbone: Cut close to the keel bone on either side to loosen meat. Continue lossening the meat along the "floor" of the breast down to the lower edge. Using fingers at this point may free it faster. Repeat on other side.

Now, the meaty sliceable parts of the turkey have been separated from the less meaty nonsliceable parts: 2 wings, 2 drumsticks, 2 thighs, breast meat in 2 pieces—one from either side.

8. To arrange for service: Place breast bone on platter. Replace breast meat on either side of keel bone. Arrange a wing, drumstick and thigh piece along one side of the breast. Repeat on second side. Garnish as desired.

Stuffing: If turkey was stuffed, remove it from cavity after breast rack and back sections are separated. Serve from separate dish.

Note: If it is necessary to heat the turkey, place parts in roasting pan. Cover and heat in a slow to moderate over (325-350 degrees F.) 20 to 30 minutes. Stuffing may be reheated in a covered casserole, or in a bag of aluminum foil.

* * *

EASTER DINNER: Fresh fruit cup, roast turkey (carved in the kitchen), gravy, potatoes Easter style, fresh canned or frozen, asparagus, new carrots soft rolls, lemon souffle, foamy sauce, coffee, tea, milk.

Application Denied

Washington, March 29 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday denied the application of Colonial Airlines for authority to serve White Plains, N. Y., through Westchester county airport between Syracuse and New York city. Colonial had protested against a CAB decision that Mohawk Airlines serve White Plains, formerly on the route of American Airlines. Colonial argued it could provide the substitution of one trunk line service for another, and that it would be improper to substitute a local service for a trunk line service. Colonial also pointed out that its service to Syracuse would permit a connection with American to Buffalo and Rochester.

Watch for 'Y's' to Make News Headlines, Says Frederic Snyder at Women's Clubs

Many important events, names and places during the remainder of this year will end in "Y" predicted Frederic Snyder at the meeting of YWCA Women's Club Thursday evening.

"We are now in a world crisis," said the popular lecturer. "New York city has already started an elaborate system of decentralization and many thousands of people will, in the near future, be moved into the Hudson valley area surrounding Kingston."

Mr. Snyder said some time ago that he would cease his "prewriting" of news headlines, but apparently could not resist the pressure of current happenings. (And "city" and "valley" end in the letter in question.)

The four key words of Mr. Snyder's talk were, Automation, Aviation, Affirmation and Adulation. He displayed many souvenirs of his frequent world-wide trips to gather news and information about world-famed personalities.

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger conducted the business meeting which preceded Mr. Snyder's informative talk. Mrs. Frank Thompson led devotions, and Mrs. C. Franklin Pierce played the piano.

Refreshments were served in the Music Room by Mrs. Thompson, chairman; Mrs. Lancelot Phelps, Mrs. Conrad J. Heiselman, Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, and Mrs. Charles Terwilliger. Mrs. Heiselman and Mrs. R. H. Van Valkenburgh presided at the tea table, which was decorated with spring flowers and yellow candles

The next meeting will be the annual meeting and luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Wednesday, April 13, at 1 p. m. Miss Florence Cordts is luncheon chairman.

CROSSING LEGS IS INFORMAL

A letter today asks: "Is the ban against a woman sitting with crossed legs a Victorian one, or is it still a polite rule of today? (Notwithstanding the fact that few women obey it!)

It is not ladylike behavior to sit with crossed knees when out in company and dressed in formal evening or afternoon clothes. A woman may very well sit this way when wearing informal dress either sports or stay-at-home dress in her own house or in that of her family or an intimate friend.

Paper Doilies

Dear Mrs. Post: The question of paper doilies has arisen and we'd like to have your answer: (1) Is a paper doily or place mat in good taste on a dining table? This does not mean for a picnic type of service but on nicest occasions? (2) Is a doily proper on a small plate if a stemmed glass is put on it? The used spoon would have to be put down on the doily and we wondered if this made it unsuitable.

Answer: (1) A paper doily is never put on anything but a plate. A place mat is put under the plate and should be of linen. (2) Yes, that is why a paper one is correct.

Christening Details

Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to have my young son christened next Sunday afternoon. Since our house is small, I cannot give a real party, but would like to have our many friends and relatives come in during the afternoon to wish the baby luck. Will you please tell me how to word the invitations and also what simple refreshments to serve?

Answer: Write on your visiting card, "Do come in on Sunday after Baby John's christening at four o'clock and wish him luck." Serve afternoon tea with little sandwiches and cakes and punch to drink to the baby's health.

How are godparents chosen? What is their obligation? These and other questions are answered in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-36, "The New Baby." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Watch for 'Y's' to Make News Headlines, Says Frederic Snyder at Women's Clubs

Many important events, names and places during the remainder of this year will end in "Y" predicted Frederic Snyder at the meeting of YWCA Women's Club Thursday evening.

"We are now in a world crisis," said the popular lecturer. "New York city has already started an elaborate system of decentralization and many thousands of people will, in the near future, be moved into the Hudson valley area surrounding Kingston."

Mr. Snyder said some time ago that he would cease his "prewriting" of news headlines, but apparently could not resist the pressure of current happenings. (And "city" and "valley" end in the letter in question.)

The four key words of Mr. Snyder's talk were, Automation, Aviation, Affirmation and Adulation. He displayed many souvenirs of his frequent world-wide trips to gather news and information about world-famed personalities.

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger conducted the business meeting which preceded Mr. Snyder's informative talk. Mrs. Frank Thompson led devotions, and Mrs. C. Franklin Pierce played the piano.

Refreshments were served in the Music Room by Mrs. Thompson, chairman; Mrs. Lancelot Phelps, Mrs. Conrad J. Heiselman, Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, and Mrs. Charles Terwilliger. Mrs. Heiselman and Mrs. R. H. Van Valkenburgh presided at the tea table, which was decorated with spring flowers and yellow candles

The next meeting will be the annual meeting and luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Wednesday, April 13, at 1 p. m. Miss Florence Cordts is luncheon chairman.

OES Minstrel Show Will Be Repeated Tonight at Hall

An enthusiastic audience greeted the opening Monday night of the minstrel show presented by Clinton Chapter, OES, at Epworth Hall, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The minstrel show with variety acts will be repeated tonight at the hall, with performance beginning at 8 p. m.

The dialogue and skits were presented by the endmen with a good sense of comedy timing. Local personalities were given very prominent mention throughout the minstrel.

The endmen also sang solos, with the second verse picked up with zest by the chorus. Director William Smith coached chorus and soloists in gestures and movements for the songs.

The endmen who provided the fun and frolic are Mrs. Rhoda Klippel, Mrs. Jesse Barnhart, Miss Phyllis Muller and Mrs. Clifford Every. The premiere and veteran endmen of many minstrels who displayed real comedy technique are Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. William Best. Interlocutor was Mrs. Raymond Trumpait who played "straight man" for all the nonsense and hilarity.

The quartet, called back for encores during the minstrel, is composed of Marylin Winnie, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shultis, and Donald Bell. Peter Knudsen who was soloist during the show, also had an encore demanded by the audience.

Taking part in the second half were six variety acts including accordion solos, vibraharp selections, vocal solos, and dances, with an instrumental trio completing the program.

SPARKMAN SAID. he does not anticipate "any major political resistance" with Germany to actual rearming.

"Of course there will be some and there has been some in recent months," Sparkman said, adding that it was natural that some Germans would be fearful of a revival of German militarism.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said the 12-division target for German ground forces "won't help too much in a military sense" because of Russia's overwhelming superiority in ground troops but would represent "an overwhelming psychological victory in the cold war."

DULLES TOLD the committee that once western European unity is "an irreversible reality" a conference between the western powers and Russia "could be held with greater hope."

He said the restoration of West German sovereignty and rearmament of the nation as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) would create "unity in the non-Communist part of Europe.'

President Eisenhower has said he would favor lower-level talks leading toward a possible conference of big power chiefs of state as soon as the German rearmament treaties are finally ratified.

Appealing for speedy action by the Senate, Dulles told the committee:

"The conditions which these agreements will create will, I hope, lead to a solution of other European problems."

DULLES SUGGESTED that the pattern of armaments control worked out in the Paris pacts on Germany "might be adopted for wider use in Europe, if the Soviet rulers have a genuine desire to regulate and control armaments."

"The reunification of Germany and the conclusion of the German peace treaty continue to be basic objectives of our policy," the secretary said. "For eight years now these objectives have been sought in repeated conferences. . . .

"These conferences have come to nought because the Soviet Union has used them as occasions to maneuver against unity in the non-Communist part of Europe.

"Once, however, that unity is an irreversible reality, then conferences could be held with greater hope. The Soviet Union will no longer have the possibility of perverting these conferences into maneuvers against Western European unity.

"It may, perhaps, at long last, be possible to get down to the actual business of unifying Germany."

Russia, Dulles said, has often talked "loudly" about arms limitation "but in fact they have never made any practical proposals."

OES Minstrel Show Will Be Repeated Tonight at Hall

An enthusiastic audience greeted the opening Monday night of the minstrel show presented by Clinton Chapter, OES, at Epworth Hall, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The minstrel show with variety acts will be repeated tonight at the hall, with performance beginning at 8 p. m.

The dialogue and skits were presented by the endmen with a good sense of comedy timing. Local personalities were given very prominent mention throughout the minstrel.

The endmen also sang solos, with the second verse picked up with zest by the chorus. Director William Smith coached chorus and soloists in gestures and movements for the songs.

The endmen who provided the fun and frolic are Mrs. Rhoda Klippel, Mrs. Jesse Barnhart, Miss Phyllis Muller and Mrs. Clifford Every. The premiere and veteran endmen of many minstrels who displayed real comedy technique are Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. William Best. Interlocutor was Mrs. Raymond Trumpait who played "straight man" for all the nonsense and hilarity.

The quartet, called back for encores during the minstrel, is composed of Marylin Winnie, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shultis, and Donald Bell. Peter Knudsen who was soloist during the show, also had an encore demanded by the audience.

Taking part in the second half were six variety acts including accordion solos, vibraharp selections, vocal solos, and dances, with an instrumental trio completing the program.

Sickler Five to Have Pottenburgh in Lineup

Siena Stars Meet Trabasso Titans

Frank Koenig Pilot Of Sickler's Delivery

Frank "Yip" Koenig of Kingsston will manage the Sickler Delivery combine against the Poughkeepsie Trabassos in the 8:30 feature of tonight's Kingston tournament doubleheader at the municipal auditorium.

Koenig, who was sidelined by a late season illness at Siena College, will have all of this year's Indian seniors in his lineup.

Of particular interest to area fans is Long Tom Pottenburgh, the 6-foot-11 center from Rhinebeck who recently played in the AAU tournament in Denver.

BESIDES POTTENBURGH, the Deliverymen expect to show Captain Jo Gunderman of this year's squad who is due to join the Marines in the near future.

Other past and present Siena stars include George Welch, Ned McGraw, Dick Whyte, John Zampier, Justin McCarthy, John Rutnick and Ralph Fudello.

The Titans, probably Poughkeepsie's best combination, have John Cottrill, star of last year's Pine Plains Bombardier champions and the MVP of the tournament. The Trabassos captured the Poughkeepsie City League pennant, the city playoffs and are semi-finalists in the current Poughkeepsie YMCA tourney.

BACKING UP COTTRILL are such worthies as the speedy Maurice Fumasla and Don Myers of last year's Bombardiers; Charlie Pellegrini, Buddy Herman, Clem Capara, Don Wilks, Arlington High school ace, Mat and Tom Murphy of McAuleys and Floyd Jones of Beacon.

A somewhat dehydrated version of the 1954 champion Pine Plains Bombardiers is carded against the Reddy Kilowatts of Newburgh, may have Mickey Burkoski in the lineup, in the 7:30 opener.

The decision on Burkoski will not be known until game time.

Red Wings Seek Sweep Over Leafs

(By The Associated Press)

The Detroit Red Wings, on the hottest unbeaten streak in their history, go after a Stanley Cup semifinal sweep over the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight. In Boston, meanwhile, the Bruins will be trying to even their National Hockey League playoff series with the Montreal Canadiens.

Detroit leads the best-of-seven series 3-0 and has tallied 11 goals with the No. 1 line of center Earl (Dutch) Reibel and forwards Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay doing the bulk of the scoring.

Among them they have counted eight goals — three apiece for Reibel and Howe and two for Lindsay. The other Red Wing scores were by Alex Delvecchio, Vic Stasiuk and Glen Skov.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

It's a weird combination, this Florida tan and a hat and topcoat to match. But even the usually infallible Tom Shultis was fooled by 1955's version of March which prefers to play the Leo role straight through. Next time around, let's wait before we harp on that "beautiful winter" theme.

Until this past weekend, Florida enjoyed the warmest stretch of March weather in many years. It was even pleasant at the Turf Club at Gulfstream where you are relieved of hard earnings in luxurious and spectacular surroundings.

• The Palm and Coconut Trail:

Hollywood Beach Country Club is one of the most resplendent golf courses in the south. It is a 6500 yard monster, with tight, narrow fairways, beautifully framed with coconut trees and palms. . . . It was a pleasant afternoon with Judge Harry E. Schirick, Alex Gerlak, the Twaalfskill pro, and Fabian L. Russell of Saugerties. A day before Judge Schirick had amazed with a corking 81. Gerlak had a steady clientele of golf pupils during his two-months stay. His brother, Joe, pro at Windham during the summer season, is top man at fabulous Hollywood Beach. Nearby Orange Brook and Sunset Country Club are other popular meccas for tourist golfers.

There was a morning the tourist stopped in a small coffee shop in Raleigh, N. C., and local yokels were talking up North Carolina State's late season surge. In Raleigh, N. C., basketball is a religion. The tourist couldn't resist busting into the conversation and proudly admitting he was from Ronnie Scheffel's home town. "Yes sir," drawled one of the Carolinians, "it's too bad that boy has to leave school just when he's playing the best ball of his career." Scheffel responded beautifully to a couple of starting roles late in the campaign and probably made Coach Everett Case wonder why he hadn't projected the former KHS star into a scoring spot much earlier. It has always puzzled this observer that Case didn't use Scheffel more as a scoring threat than as a ball hawk and spot player. But Ronnie wound up his career in spectacular fashion and left the impression at beautiful Reynolds Coliseum that he could have scored, if only they had given him the chance.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Far up lonely Route 19 which runs straight as the crow flies north of St. Petersburg we came upon Brooklyn's all-time pitching great, Dazzy Vance, in a little hamlet known as Homosassa, Fla. There the fabulous old timer operates a small gift and antique shop. Like the other experts, he thinks the Dodgers can dethrone the Giants if Newcombe, Campanella and Robinson deliver up to 1953 style. But the Giants still have Willie Mays. . . . Rain chased us off the Sunset Country Club golf course after three holes in a foursome with Allen Waterous and Billy and Herbie. . . . Ahead of us were Tony DeLisio, his son, Stephen DeLisio, and another guest. It was the first rainfall since Feb. 9 they told us. . . . St. Petersburgh puts a chill through a young man, but on a dark, dank day it looks the more dismal with all those traditional "green benches" on Central avenue naked of humanity. . . . Mrs. Wiggie DeLisio has developed into a topflight golfer and recently won a driving contest with a smash of 245 yards. By the end of the 1955 season she could be the best woman swinger in these parts.

• Of Men and Mice:

Hollywood-Hollywood Beach is one of the nicest spots along the Gold Coast of Florida. Situated between Miami Beach and Fort Lauderdale it is hard by the sea, jai-alou, Gulfstream, the dog track, and restaurants to satisfy the most discriminating gormet. . . . Kingstonians we saw in and around Hollywood were Mr. and Mrs. Van Haver, Mr. and Mrs. Don Schryver, the lumber magnate; Mr. and Mrs. Doc Forst. One day we heard incessant honking of horns behind us, then a shout And there big as life were Jake Berinato of Jake's Grill and Frank Martin Jr. . . . It was 27 for 3 in three tries at Gulfstream and that sort of stuff has a way of speeding the return trip. The whole sojourn was a wonderful experience but, as usual, we couldn't fold the Florida state map back into its proper format. Did you ever accomplish that little trick?

DeMarco Scores Decision Over Manzo in Rough Bout

New York, March 29 (AP) — Paddy De Marco might have lost his lightweight championship, but it's nice to know the gentle Brooklynite hasn't lost his favorite offensive weapons —the butt.

"Who, me?" asked Paddy when Referee Harry Ebbets warned him for butting in the fifth of his 10-round split decision victory over Libby Manzo in St. Nicholas Arena last night. "It was purely unintentional."

Paddy, who lost his last two outings by knockouts—the title to Jimmy Carter last November and another joust to Seraphin Ferrer in Paris in January — had a tough time with Manzo. The New Yorker lacks experience, but he has a hard head.

WHEN DE MARCO decided to rough it up, Manzo was perfectly willing to go along and the crowd howled with glee. After Ebbets warned De Marco—and wagged his finger at Manzo, too—he permitted the boys to go at each other with vigor. They didn't throw much leather, but their heads took an awful battering.

"I got a little irked," confessed De Marco. "But I needed a fight like that to get rolling again. He's a rough boy. I know I fight clean (eyes wide) and any butting was an accident.

"Anyhow, I got a little tired toward the end, so I know I need more work. From now on, I hope I can fight every three weeks."

MANZO, OF COURSE, went on record as thinking he won. If he had gotten in a few punches at strategic spots, he might have upset Billy-goat Paddy, as his friends affectionately call De Marco. For obvious reasons.

"If I fight him again, I'd like it to go 12 rounds," said Manzo, "maybe for the New York state lightweight title."

The two judges and the Associated Press gave it to De Marco, but Ebbets called it a draw. The bout was telecast over Du Mont. DeMarco weighed 140¼, Manzo 138.

AT EASTERN PARKWAY Arena in Brooklyn, Danny Giovanelli, 154, of Brooklyn, who doesn't even have a manager, upset the dope by stopping Jimmy Martinez, 156, of Phoenix, Ariz., in 1:42 of the fifth of a scheduled 10.

Until the third, Martinez, who had won three straight, looked the better of the two. But Giovanelli began to connect with body blows and left hooks and when Dr. Samuel Swetnick of the New York State Athletic Commission called a halt to the proceedings, Martinez was out on his feet.

More Than 150 Fete Champions At Annual Dinner

Mayor Stang Praises League for Good Work

More than 150 persons paid tribute to the Moose Lodge shuffleboard champions at the annual Intra-Fraternal Shuffleboard League banquet Saturday night at the Moose Lodge.

Principal speaker was Mayor Fred Stang, who commended the league on its achievements and lauded them for combining the fraternal organizations of the community into a harmonious group of sports competitors.

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, gave the invocation.

RETIRING PRESIDENT Ted Riccobono of the Kingston Power Boat Association thanked the managers and captains for their splendid support during his term of office.

President-elect Ed Roche of the VFW was introduced and he promised to make next year's league even better. Toastmaster Radel also introduced Vern Radel, of KPBA, the retiring secretary-treasurer; and Vince Eckert of VFW, his successor.

MAYOR STANG THEN made the presentation of the various trophies. Ed Cline, captain, accepted the championship trophy for the Moose Lodge. It was donated by the 1954 Elks Board of Trustees. There was a special award for the auxiliary of the Moose.

Frank McDonough accepted the runnerup trophy for the Elks Club. Also accepting trophies were Ed Esposito, St. Mary's Benevolent Society, third place; Vince Eckert, VFW, fourth place; Joe Huber, commodore of the KPBA, fifth place; and Tommy Ryan of the Knights of Columbus received the sixth place award.

Pirates, Red Sox Among Grapefruit Sensations But Wait Until April 12

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

It won't mean a thing next month when the pennant races get under way, but right now it's the Philadelphia Phillies, Milwaukee Braves, Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Red Sox who are the golden boys of baseball's spring exhibition schedule.

Only one of the four—Milwaukee—figures as a pennant contender. The Phils seem to lack power. Pittsburgh doesn't have the experience. And the Red Sox don't have Ted Williams.

YET, PHILADELPHIA is the winningest exhibition club to date, winning 10 of its 15 spring games. That's the best record (.667) in either league. Milwaukee follows with a .643 percentage on a 9-5 record. Pittsburgh and Boston both are 10-6 for a .625 mark.

Manager Pinky Higgins' Red Sox have the best record on a strictly league basis, however. They've won seven of eight against clubs in their own American League. The Chicago White Sox, 6-9 overall, are second in the American with a 3-2 mark.

The Phils top the National with a 6-2 record against other clubs in the senior circuit. The Braves and the world champion New York Giants are next with 5-2 records, although the Giants have played all their National League games against the Chicago Cubs.

THE BATTLE BETWEEN the leagues goes to the National at this stage by a 38-28 count. Part of that advantage comes out of the Arizona camps, where the Cubs and Giants have ganged up for a 10-6 record against the Cleveland Indians, defending champs of the American League.

National

	W	L	Pct.
Philadelphia (10-5)	6	2	.750
Milwaukee (9-5)	5	2	.714
New York (11-7)	5	2	.714
Brooklyn (6-9)	1	1	.500
Cincinnati (6-9)	3	4	.429
Pittsburgh (10-6)	3	5	.375
Chicago (9-6)	2	5	.286
St. Louis (8-9)	2	7	.222

American

	W	L	Pct.
Boston (10-6)	7	1	.875
Chicago (6-9)	3	2	.600
Washington (7-5)	4	3	.571
Kansas City (7-11)	6	7	.462
New York (6-6)	2	3	.400
Baltimore (5-8)	2	4	.333
Detroit (6-10)	2	6	.250
Cleveland (9-10)	0	0	.000

THE CLUBS WILL BE breaking camp this week, hooking up in pairs for the trip north.

There wasn't much but rain and cold weather on the exhibition schedule yesterday. Just three games survived the elements.

Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 2-1, with Preston Ward hitting a two-run single in the third.

The New York Giants scored five runs in the eighth to overhaul the Cubs, but Chicago scored a deadlocking run in the ninth and broke it open with four in the 10th off Reuben Gomez for a 14-11 decision.

Kansas City defeated the Detroit Tigers 3-2 behind the six-inning, no-hit, no-run pitching of rookie Art Ceccarelli.

And both the Yankees and the Athletics spiked a report the Yanks were trying to get pitcher Arnie Portocarrero for "five superfluous players."

Sickler Five to Have Pottenburgh in Lineup

Siena Stars Meet Trabasso Titans

Frank Koenig Pilot Of Sickler's Delivery

Frank "Yip" Koenig of Kingston will manage the Sickler Delivery combine against the Poughkeepsie Trabassos in the 8:30 feature of tonight's Kingston tournament doubleheader at the municipal auditorium.

Koenig, who was sidelined by a late season illness at Siena College, will have all of this year's Indian seniors in his lineup.

Of particular interest to area fans is Long Tom Pottenburgh, the 6-foot-11 center from Rhinebeck who recently played in the AAU tournament in Denver.

BESIDES POTTENBURGH, the Deliverymen expect to show Captain Jo Gunderman of this year's squad who is due to join the Marines in the near future.

Other past and present Siena stars include George Welch, Ned McGraw, Dick Whyte, John Zampier, Justin McCarthy, John Rutnick and Ralph Fudello.

The Titans, probably Poughkeepsie's best combination, have John Cottrill, star of last year's Pine Plains Bombardier champions and the MVP of the tournament. The Trabassos captured the Poughkeepsie City League pennant, the city playoffs and are semi-finalists in the current Poughkeepsie YMCA tourney.

BACKING UP COTTRILL are such worthies as the speedy Maurice Fumasla and Don Myers of last year's Bombardiers; Charlie Pellegrini, Buddy Herman, Clem Capara, Don Wilks, Arlington High school ace, Mat and Tom Murphy of McAuleys and Floyd Jones of Beacon.

A somewhat dehydrated version of the 1954 champion Pine Plains Bombardiers is carded against the Reddy Kilowatts of Newburgh, may have Mickey Burkoski in the lineup, in the 7:30 opener.

The decision on Burkoski will not be known until game time.

Red Wings Seek Sweep Over Leafs

(By The Associated Press)

The Detroit Red Wings, on the hottest unbeaten streak in their history, go after a Stanley Cup semifinal sweep over the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight. In Boston, meanwhile, the Bruins will be trying to even their National Hockey League playoff series with the Montreal Canadiens.

Detroit leads the best-of-seven series 3-0 and has tallied 11 goals with the No. 1 line of center Earl (Dutch) Reibel and forwards Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay doing the bulk of the scoring.

Among them they have counted eight goals — three apiece for Reibel and Howe and two for Lindsay. The other Red Wing scores were by Alex Delvecchio, Vic Stasiuk and Glen Skov.

It's a weird combination, this Florida tan and a hat and topcoat to match. But even the usually infallible Tom Shultis was fooled by 1955's version of March which prefers to play the Leo role straight through. Next time around, let's wait before we harp on that "beautiful winter" theme.

Until this past weekend, Florida enjoyed the warmest stretch of March weather in many years. It was even pleasant at the Turf Club at Gulfstream where you are relieved of hard earnings in luxurious and spectacular surroundings.

• The Palm and Coconut Trail:

Hollywood Beach Country Club is one of the most resplendent golf courses in the south. It is a 6500 yard monster, with tight, narrow fairways, beautifully framed with coconut trees and palms. . . . It was a pleasant afternoon with Judge Harry E. Schirick, Alex Gerlak, the Twaalfskill pro, and Fabian L. Russell of Saugerties. A day before Judge Schirick had amazed with a corking 81. Gerlak had a steady clientele of golf pupils during his two-months stay. His brother, Joe, pro at Windham during the summer season, is top man at fabulous Hollywood Beach. Nearby Orange Brook and Sunset Country Club are other popular meccas for tourist golfers.

There was a morning the tourist stopped in a small coffee shop in Raleigh, N. C., and local yokels were talking up North Carolina State's late season surge. In Raleigh, N. C., basketball is a religion. The tourist couldn't resist busting into the conversation and proudly admitting he was from Ronnie Scheffel's home town. "Yes sir," drawled one of the Carolinians, "it's too bad that boy has to leave school just when he's playing the best ball of his career." Scheffel responded beautifully to a couple of starting roles late in the campaign and probably made Coach Everett Case wonder why he hadn't projected the former KHS star into a scoring spot much earlier. It has always puzzled this observer that Case didn't use Scheffel more as a scoring threat than as a ball hawk and spot player. But Ronnie wound up his career in spectacular fashion and left the impression at beautiful Reynolds Coliseum that he could have scored, if only they had given him the chance.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Far up lonely Route 19 which runs straight as the crow flies north of St. Petersburg we came upon Brooklyn's all-time pitching great, Dazzy Vance, in a little hamlet known as Homosassa, Fla. There the fabulous old timer operates a small gift and antique shop. Like the other experts, he thinks the Dodgers can dethrone the Giants if Newcombe, Campanella and Robinson deliver up to 1953 style. But the Giants still have Willie Mays. . . . Rain chased us off the Sunset Country Club golf course after three holes in a foursome with Allen Waterous and Billy and Herbie. . . . Ahead of us were Tony DeLisio, his son, Stephen DeLisio, and another guest. It was the first rainfall since Feb. 9 they told us. . . . St. Petersburgh puts a chill through a young man, but on a dark, dank day it looks the more dismal with all those traditional "green benches" on Central avenue naked of humanity. . . . Mrs. Wiggie DeLisio has developed into a topflight golfer and recently won a driving contest with a smash of 245 yards. By the end of the 1955 season she could be the best woman swinger in these parts.

"I got a little irked," confessed De Marco. "But I needed a fight like that to get rolling again. He's a rough boy. I know I fight clean (eyes wide) and any butting was an accident.

"Anyhow, I got a little tired toward the end, so I know I need more work. From now on, I hope I can fight every three weeks."

MANZO, OF COURSE, went on record as thinking he won. If he had gotten in a few punches at strategic spots, he might have upset Billy-goat Paddy, as his friends affectionately call De Marco. For obvious reasons.

"If I fight him again, I'd like it to go 12 rounds," said Manzo, "maybe for the New York state lightweight title."

The two judges and the Associated Press gave it to De Marco, but Ebbets called it a draw. The bout was telecast over Du Mont. DeMarco weighed 140¼, Manzo 138.

AT EASTERN PARKWAY Arena in Brooklyn, Danny Giovanelli, 154, of Brooklyn, who doesn't even have a manager, upset the dope by stopping Jimmy Martinez, 156, of Phoenix, Ariz., in 1:42 of the fifth of a scheduled 10.

Until the third, Martinez, who had won three straight, looked the better of the two. But Giovanelli began to connect with body blows and left hooks and when Dr. Samuel Swetnick of the New York State Athletic Commission called a halt to the proceedings, Martinez was out on his feet.

More Than 150 Fete Champions At Annual Dinner

Mayor Stang Praises League for Good Work

More than 150 persons paid tribute to the Moose Lodge shuffleboard champions at the annual Intra-Fraternal Shuffleboard League banquet Saturday night at the Moose Lodge.

Principal speaker was Mayor Fred Stang, who commended the league on its achievements and lauded them for combining the fraternal organizations of the community into a harmonious group of sports competitors.

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, gave the invocation.

President-elect Ed Roche of the VFW was introduced and he promised to make next year's league even better. Toastmaster Radel also introduced Vern Radel, of KPBA, the retiring secretary-treasurer; and Vince Eckert of VFW, his successor.

MAYOR STANG THEN made the presentation of the various trophies. Ed Cline, captain, accepted the championship trophy for the Moose Lodge. It was donated by the 1954 Elks Board of Trustees. There was a special award for the auxiliary of the Moose.

Frank McDonough accepted the runnerup trophy for the Elks Club. Also accepting trophies were Ed Esposito, St. Mary's Benevolent Society, third place; Vince Eckert, VFW, fourth place; Joe Huber, commodore of the KPBA, fifth place; and Tommy Ryan of the Knights of Columbus received the sixth place award.

Pirates, Red Sox Among Grapefruit Sensations But Wait Until April 12

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

It won't mean a thing next month when the pennant races get under way, but right now it's the Philadelphia Phillies, Milwaukee Braves, Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Red Sox who are the golden boys of baseball's spring exhibition schedule.

Only one of the four—Milwaukee—figures as a pennant contender. The Phils seem to lack power. Pittsburgh doesn't have the experience. And the Red Sox don't have Ted Williams.

YET, PHILADELPHIA is the winningest exhibition club to date, winning 10 of its 15 spring games. That's the best record (.667) in either league. Milwaukee follows with a .643 percentage on a 9-5 record. Pittsburgh and Boston both are 10-6 for a .625 mark.

Manager Pinky Higgins' Red Sox have the best record on a strictly league basis, however. They've won seven of eight against clubs in their own American League. The Chicago White Sox, 6-9 overall, are second in the American with a 3-2 mark.

The Phils top the National with a 6-2 record against other clubs in the senior circuit. The Braves and the world champion New York Giants are next with 5-2 records, although the Giants have played all their National League games against the Chicago Cubs.

THE BATTLE BETWEEN the leagues goes to the National at this stage by a 38-28 count. Part of that advantage comes out of the Arizona camps, where the Cubs and Giants have ganged up for a 10-6 record against the Cleveland Indians, defending champs of the American League.

National

	W	L	Pct.
Philadelphia (10-5)	6	2	.750
Milwaukee (9-5)	5	2	.714
New York (11-7)	5	2	.714
Brooklyn (6-9)	1	1	.500
Cincinnati (6-9)	3	4	.429
Pittsburgh (10-6)	3	5	.375
Chicago (9-6)	2	5	.286
St. Louis (8-9)	2	7	.222

American

	W	L	Pct.
Boston (10-6)	7	1	.875
Chicago (6-9)	3	2	.600
Washington (7-5)	4	3	.571
Kansas City (7-11)	6	7	.462
New York (6-6)	2	3	.400
Baltimore (5-8)	2	4	.333
Detroit (6-10)	2	6	.250
Cleveland (9-10)	0	0	.000

THE CLUBS WILL BE breaking camp this week, hooking up in pairs for the trip north.

There wasn't much but rain and cold weather on the exhibition schedule yesterday. Just three games survived the elements.

Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 2-1, with Preston Ward hitting a two-run single in the third.

The New York Giants scored five runs in the eighth to overhaul the Cubs, but Chicago scored a deadlocking run in the ninth and broke it open with four in the 10th off Reuben Gomez for a 14-11 decision.

Kansas City defeated the Detroit Tigers 3-2 behind the six-inning, no-hit, no-run pitching of rookie Art Ceccarelli.

And both the Yankees and the Athletics spiked a report the Yanks were trying to get pitcher Arnie Portocarrero for "five superfluous players."

Deer Hunters Welcomed

Helena, Mont. (AP)—Montana is dangling a lure before outstate deer hunters. Non-Montanans, who have paid $100 each for a big game license, now may hunt deer and antelope for only a $20 state fee. The reduction was made by the Legislature after eastern Montana farmers and ranchers complained that too many deer and pronghorns have been damaging grain fields or eating into haystacks. The $20 fee prevails only for 1955 and 1956.

Sugar Ray Hits Comeback Trail With Lombardo

Cincinnati, March 29 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, 10 years older than his foe but about 10 pounds heavier, battles Johnny Lombardo tonight in his third stake on the comeback trail.

The former world welterweight and middleweight champion was scheduled for No. 3 in Boston against George Small March 5. But the 34-year-old Robinson claims virus germs wrestled him and pinned him to the bed. He backed out a few hours before the bout.

PHYSICIANS of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission could not find Robinson's ailment and the state banned him from the ring for life.

Cincinnati oddmakers are making Robinson a 2-1 favorite over the 24-year-old Lombardo. But there are no takers.

Robinson is expected to weigh in at about 161 pounds for the 10-rounder. Lombardo, from Mt. Carmel, Pa., should weigh about 151.

Racine Kegler Rolls 14th 300 In ABC History

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 28 (AP)—The 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament may be remembered as the year of broken records.

That's the trend as the ABC meet entered its fourth day today with several new records. Monday's spotlight focused on a perfect 300 game by Myron Ericksen, 47-year-old retail pharmacist, of Racine, Wis. It was the 14th perfect score in the 52 year ABC history.

ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT of yesterday's action was the blistering 738 series by southpaw Eddie Gerzine, Milwaukee tavern owner and bowling alley proprietor. His 738 was 15 pins better than last year's singles high of 723 posted by Tony Sparando of Rego Park, N. Y. Gerzine, competing in his second ABC finished with 542 in singles last year.

Besides taking the singles lead, Gerzine also went in front in the all events, with a 584 in the team action and 616 in the doubles. Joe Heidl, Madison, Wis., moved into second in the all events with 1869. Charles Bedell, Chicago, took over third with 1864.

Lincolns Take Shuffle Title

Gain 11-7 Margin Over Rookies

Lincoln Park Inn became the first champions of the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League by winning three games from Rookies Tavern Sunday.

These wins coupled with eight victories of the previous Sunday gave the Presidents the championship series by an 11-7 margin.

The Lincoln Park Inn will stage a victory dinner Saturday night at which time the championship plaque will be presented by the league.

IN SUNDAY'S CLINCHER, Ed Smythe and Dick Morris got Lincoln Park off on the right foot by winning the first game. The Rookies bounced back to take the next five straight with doubles by George Westfall-Don Galagher, "Rookie" Prusack-Lou Ferraro and a single win by Andy Plotzyk and Carl Schuster.

With the chips down, Bud Leininger and George Harmon then combined to win the next two games for Lincoln Park and shut the door on the Rookies to make the final tally, 5-3. The last two games were just so much window dressing.

High scorers for the Rookies were George Westfall with 35 points. Lou Ferraro posted 33 and Carl Schuster 25. Bud Leininger and George Harmon each had 26 and Ed Smythe 25 for Lincoln Park Inn.

Sugar Ray Hits Comeback Trail With Lombardo

Cincinnati, March 29 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, 10 years older than his foe but about 10 pounds heavier, battles Johnny Lombardo tonight in his third stake on the comeback trail.

The former world welterweight and middleweight champion was scheduled for No. 3 in Boston against George Small March 5. But the 34-year-old Robinson claims virus germs wrestled him and pinned him to the bed. He backed out a few hours before the bout.

PHYSICIANS of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission could not find Robinson's ailment and the state banned him from the ring for life.

Cincinnati oddmakers are making Robinson a 2-1 favorite over the 24-year-old Lombardo. But there are no takers.

Robinson is expected to weigh in at about 161 pounds for the 10-rounder. Lombardo, from Mt. Carmel, Pa., should weigh about 151.

Racine Kegler Rolls 14th 300 In ABC History

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 28 (AP)—The 1955 American Bowling Congress tournament may be remembered as the year of broken records.

That's the trend as the ABC meet entered its fourth day today with several new records. Monday's spotlight focused on a perfect 300 game by Myron Ericksen, 47-year-old retail pharmacist, of Racine, Wis. It was the 14th perfect score in the 52 year ABC history.

ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT of yesterday's action was the blistering 738 series by southpaw Eddie Gerzine, Milwaukee tavern owner and bowling alley proprietor. His 738 was 15 pins better than last year's singles high of 723 posted by Tony Sparando of Rego Park, N. Y. Gerzine, competing in his second ABC finished with 542 in singles last year.

Besides taking the singles lead, Gerzine also went in front in the all events, with a 584 in the team action and 616 in the doubles. Joe Heidl, Madison, Wis., moved into second in the all events with 1869. Charles Bedell, Chicago, took over third with 1864.

Deer Hunters Welcomed

Helena, Mont. (AP)—Montana is dangling a lure before outstate deer hunters. Non-Montanans, who have paid $100 each for a big game license, now may hunt deer and antelope for only a $20 state fee. The reduction was made by the Legislature after eastern Montana farmers and ranchers complained that too many deer and pronghorns have been damaging grain fields or eating into haystacks. The $20 fee prevails only for 1955 and 1956.

Man to Undergo Mental Checking

New York, March 29 (AP)—An ex-corporal, whose statements about communism sparked a barroom brawl Sunday, has been sent to a hospital for mental observation.

Alexander Czarnecki, 24, ordered to Kings County Hospital yesterday after he told Felony Court Magistrate Ludwig Gloma that he too had been a judge with the military rank of brigadier general.

Czarnecki, who disappeared from his army unit in Berlin in 1950 and spent 17 months behind the Iron Curtain, was in court on felonious assault and weapons law charges. The charges resulted from a fight that broke out when Czarnecki told a group of bar patrons, "the Commies will take over here and you men will be run out."

WHEN CZARNECKI went over to the Communists in Berlin, they announced he did so because he was fed up with American imperialism. He was convicted of desertion on his return to the west.

In court yesterday the Polish-born ex-soldier told this magistrate he had " a case with the Pentagon" and that "Washington" owed him a lot of money. Then he added:

"I used to be a judge, too. I was a military judge in Austria.

"I was a brigadier general in the army and I was picked to be a judge. . . .

"But it's all very hush-hush."

Two Are Killed At Rail Crossing

Mountain View, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Two teen-agers were killed and another injured seriously when their car was hit by an Erie Railroad commuter train at a grade crossing late yesterday.

The boy and two girls were on their way home from Boonton High School when the mishap occurred at the Fairfield road grade crossing.

The driver, 17-year-old Charles E. Morgan of 6 River Edge Road, was killed along with Gail Hunter, 14, of Boonton Turnpike, both of Lincoln Park. Injured was 14-year-old Gail Stuart of Forest avenue, Lincoln Park.

All three were hurled from the auto by the impact. The car, which was flipped into a swamp about 50 feet from the crossing, was demolished.

Some 40 passengers were aboard the train, which was en route from Jersey City to Midvale on the Greenwood Lake Division. None of the passengers was hurt, said Carl Hensen, chief dispatcher for the Erie at Jersey City. Damage to the train was slight.

Gas Tax Boost

safety inspections of automobiles, scheduled to begin May 1.

The Senate Rules Committee introduced the bill last night at the request of Sen. Fred J. Rath, Utica Republican. Rath has sponsored also a measure to wipe the inspection law from the books entirely.

Rath said he felt that the law should be repealed. He said he requested the delaying measure to allow time for further study.

HARRIMAN LAST WEEK urged the Legislature to postpone the effective date of the present law, enacted last year on the recommendation of former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Joseph F. Carlino, GOP majority leader in the Assembly, said it was his "off-hand opinion" that there was "a certain amount of merit" in the idea of delaying the inspections. Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck has said he personally favored delaying the inspections.

Under the law motorists must have their cars inspected by next Sept. 1. To be allowed to keep them on the road.

IN ANOTHER development, the Senate passed and sent to the Assembly a bill to authorize the Public Works Commission to set up more picnic spots along state highways and improve existing ones.

The bill, sponsored by Republican Sen. Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, was approved unanimously. It would permit the Public Works Department to acquire rights of way for rest areas and accept gifts of land, picnic tables and other needed equipment.

Desmond has said that the state had about 150 parking areas along its highways but that about 100 were barren strips.

The senator said the Thruway Authority planned to establish free picnic spots along the new cross-state expressway.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Sawkill Fire Company will hold a regular monthly meeting at the firehouse Wednesday, April 6, at 8 p. m. There will be a guest present from the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association to explain the annual CP Drive for funds, which will be held in May. All members of the auxiliary, and any other interested women in the community and fire district are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Thomas Malone and Mrs. John Duffy are on the refreshment committee.

Meetings scheduled in April include those of the Sawkill Fire Company, which assemble the second Monday each month at 8 p. m., in the firehouse. All members and any other interested men of the community and fire district are always welcome. The Sawkill Mothers' Club will hold a meeting the first Monday in April at the schoolhouse at 8 p. m. The previous meetings, scheduled to be held in February and March, were canceled because of inclement weather, so this will be the first meeting this year. Plans for future activities of the group, and plans for a complete reorganization will be discussed. It is very urgent that all mothers, and many other women of the community, who are interested in the activities of the club, attend this meeting. In the past few years the Mothers' Club provided the pupils of the upper Sawkill School with parties at the close of school in June, the Halloween party, and the Christmas celebration. The pre-schoolers of the community and any visiting children are always included in these group plans. General discussion last fall at several meetings regarding the possibility of the Mothers' Club also undertaking other constructive activities will be continued at the forthcoming meeting. Plans for raising funds will also be discussed, and the disposition of said funds to provide extras for the pupils which are not now included under the school funds.

Car and Meter Damaged

A 1939 sedan owned by Harold Carney, 460 Broadway, was found parked against a damaged parking meter in front of 458 Broadway at 6:50 a. m. today, according to a notation on the city police blotter. Officers Edward Edwards and George M. Dougherty, who reported the incident, said the car had been damaged about the front fender and bore marks of aluminum paint. Police said Carney told them his car must have been pushed by another vehicle after he had parked it properly for the night. The car was partly on the sidewalk.

Difference in Time

Before standard time was adopted in the United States in 1883 there was a difference in time of five seconds between the two ends of the Brooklyn Bridge.

Tillson

Tillson, March 29 — Undetermined smoke and water damage resulted from a smoldering fire at Dave's Auction, concrete building on Route 32 in Tillson, Friday morning shortly after 8:30 o'clock. The Tillson Volunteer Fire Company, under the direction of chief Russell Douglass, responded with two trucks. Cause of the fire was not known, but it is believed the fire smoldered several hours in some overstuffed furniture, according to Douglass. Partial contents were damaged mostly by water and smoke. A truck housed in the building was not damaged, it was reported.

A film in colored slides, Valley of Opportunity, will be shown through the courtesy of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. at the Tillson firehall on Thursday, April 7, starting at 8 p. m. Last week, this film was shown to an interested group in Rosendale, and is of special interest to businessmen, resort owners and those desirous of making this section of the Hudson valley a successful resort area.

The Tillson Tornadoes, formerly the Fun Club, will sponsor a baked goods sale Saturday at the Tillson firehall. Proceeds will be used for the purpose of purchasing baseball equipment for the members of the club. This sale will start at 10 a. m. Mrs. Russell Douglass is in charge of the club. Meetings were resumed March 19, and officers of the club now are Billy Dunn, president; Larry Born, vice president; Mary Ann Woolsey, secretary; Eugene Frost, treasurer. Membership is open to children between the ages of 8 and 13 years.

Gerald Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Avery, who has been in the air force since May, 1954, has been promoted to the rank of airman second class, while attending radar school at Kessler Air Force Base, Miss.

The regular weekly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Tillson Volunteer Fire Company will be held at Tillson firehall Wednesday from 1 to 3 p. m. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Howard Sutherland entertained at a luncheon in her home on Wednesday, March 23, in honor of Mrs. Frank Rowe. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowe celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on that day. Those attending the luncheon included the Mmes. Walter Born, John Schultz, Peter Hoffman Jr., Joel Woolsey, George Taylor, Albert Hoyt and Hollis Harvey.

The regular monthly meeting of the Tillson School Association will be held March 31 instead of the first Thursday of the month as usual, due to Holy Week. Mrs. A. J. Call, district representative of the P-TA, will address the group and give details of the Perent-Teachers Association. The local association is not connected with the P-TA at present.

New Shop . . .

a food market. The Grand Union store will be only half a block away.

Cars will be able to park within 10 or 12 feet of the front of the building. A covering, like a visor, will project about 10 feet from the front of the center, making it possible for patrons to step from their automobiles almost under the roof-like projection, an advantage in case of inclement weather.

A huge neon sign approximately 30 feet high will stand in front of the center. It will be visible for approximately a mile in each direction. The sign will read AA Shop Center.

THE KALISH BROTHERS pointed out that there still remained a "little work" by the architect, Paul Canin of Poughkeepsie. Canin, whose reputation is nationwide, has been employed as architect for a number of major construction projects, including the new Idlewild Hotel at Idlewild Airport, Long Island.

They explained that shopping centers, "shopping on wheels," as they put it, was taking the country by storm. Construction of centers such as that in Yonkers have made sensational news during the past five years.

The Kalish brothers have been associated for a number of years in the Kingston Laundry, Inc., 79 Broadway, established by their father, Morris Kalish, 35 years ago. The laundry and dry cleaning firm is one of Ulster county's most outstanding establishments of its kind.

Man to Undergo Mental Checking

New York, March 29 (AP)—An ex-corporal, whose statements about communism sparked a barroom brawl Sunday, has been sent to a hospital for mental observation.

Alexander Czarnecki, 24, ordered to Kings County Hospital yesterday after he told Felony Court Magistrate Ludwig Gloma that he too had been a judge with the military rank of brigadier general.

Czarnecki, who disappeared from his army unit in Berlin in 1950 and spent 17 months behind the Iron Curtain, was in court on felonious assault and weapons law charges. The charges resulted from a fight that broke out when Czarnecki told a group of bar patrons, "the Commies will take over here and you men will be run out."

WHEN CZARNECKI went over to the Communists in Berlin, they announced he did so because he was fed up with American imperialism. He was convicted of desertion on his return to the west.

In court yesterday the Polish-born ex-soldier told this magistrate he had "a case with the Pentagon" and that "Washington" owed him a lot of money. Then he added:

"I used to be a judge, too. I was a military judge in Austria.

"I was a brigadier general in the army and I was picked to be a judge. . . .

"But it's all very hush-hush."

Two Are Killed At Rail Crossing

Mountain View, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Two teen-agers were killed and another injured seriously when their car was hit by an Erie Railroad commuter train at a grade crossing late yesterday.

The boy and two girls were on their way home from Boonton High School when the mishap occurred at the Fairfield road grade crossing.

The driver, 17-year-old Charles E. Morgan of 6 River Edge Road, was killed along with Gail Hunter, 14, of Boonton Turnpike, both of Lincoln Park. Injured was 14-year-old Gail Stuart of Forest avenue, Lincoln Park.

All three were hurled from the auto by the impact. The car, which was flipped into a swamp about 50 feet from the crossing, was demolished.

Some 40 passengers were aboard the train, which was en route from Jersey City to Midvale on the Greenwood Lake Division. None of the passengers was hurt, said Carl Hensen, chief dispatcher for the Erie at Jersey City. Damage to the train was slight.

Gas Tax Boost

safety inspections of automobiles, scheduled to begin May 1.

The Senate Rules Committee introduced the bill last night at the request of Sen. Fred J. Rath, Utica Republican. Rath has sponsored also a measure to wipe the inspection law from the books entirely.

Rath said he felt that the law should be repealed. He said he requested the delaying measure to allow time for further study.

HARRIMAN LAST WEEK urged the Legislature to postpone the effective date of the present law, enacted last year on the recommendation of former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Joseph F. Carlino, GOP majority leader in the Assembly, said it was his "off-hand opinion" that there was "a certain amount of merit" in the idea of delaying the inspections. Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck has said he personally favored delaying the inspections.

Under the law motorists must have their cars inspected by next Sept. 1. To be allowed to keep them on the road.

IN ANOTHER development, the Senate passed and sent to the Assembly a bill to authorize the Public Works Commission to set up more picnic spots along state highways and improve existing ones.

The bill, sponsored by Republican Sen. Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh, was approved unanimously. It would permit the Public Works Department to acquire rights of way for rest areas and accept gifts of land, picnic tables and other needed equipment.

Desmond has said that the state had about 150 parking areas along its highways but that about 100 were barren strips.

The senator said the Thruway Authority planned to establish free picnic spots along the new cross-state expressway.

Car and Meter Damaged

A 1939 sedan owned by Harold Carney, 460 Broadway, was found parked against a damaged parking meter in front of 458 Broadway at 6:50 a. m. today, according to a notation on the city police blotter. Officers Edward Edwards and George M. Dougherty, who reported the incident, said the car had been damaged about the front fender and bore marks of aluminum paint. Police said Carney told them his car must have been pushed by another vehicle after he had parked it properly for the night. The car was partly on the sidewalk.

Tillson

Tillson, March 29 — Undetermined smoke and water damage resulted from a smoldering fire at Dave's Auction, concrete building on Route 32 in Tillson, Friday morning shortly after 8:30 o'clock. The Tillson Volunteer Fire Company, under the direction of chief Russell Douglass, responded with two trucks. Cause of the fire was not known, but it is believed the fire smoldered several hours in some overstuffed furniture, according to Douglass. Partial contents were damaged mostly by water and smoke. A truck housed in the building was not damaged, it was reported.

A film in colored slides, Valley of Opportunity, will be shown through the courtesy of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. at the Tillson firehall on Thursday, April 7, starting at 8 p. m. Last week, this film was shown to an interested group in Rosendale, and is of special interest to businessmen, resort owners and those desirous of making this section of the Hudson valley a successful resort area.

The Tillson Tornadoes, formerly the Fun Club, will sponsor a baked goods sale Saturday at the Tillson firehall. Proceeds will be used for the purpose of purchasing baseball equipment for the members of the club. This sale will start at 10 a. m. Mrs. Russell Douglass is in charge of the club. Meetings were resumed March 19, and officers of the club now are Billy Dunn, president; Larry Born, vice president; Mary Ann Woolsey, secretary; Eugene Frost, treasurer. Membership is open to children between the ages of 8 and 13 years.

Gerald Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Avery, who has been in the air force since May, 1954, has been promoted to the rank of airman second class, while attending radar school at Kessler Air Force Base, Miss.

The regular weekly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Tillson Volunteer Fire Company will be held at Tillson firehall Wednesday from 1 to 3 p. m. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Howard Sutherland entertained at a luncheon in her home on Wednesday, March 23, in honor of Mrs. Frank Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowe celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on that day. Those attending the luncheon included the Mmes. Walter Born, John Schultz, Peter Hoffman Jr., Joel Woolsey, George Taylor, Albert Hoyt and Hollis Harvey.

The regular monthly meeting of the Tillson School Association will be held March 31 instead of the first Thursday of the month as usual, due to Holy Week. Mrs. A. J. Call, district representative of the P-TA, will address the group and give details of the Perent-Teachers Association. The local association is not connected with the P-TA at present.

New Shop . . .

a food market. The Grand Union store will be only half a block away.

Cars will be able to park within 10 or 12 feet of the front of the building. A covering, like a visor, will project about 10 feet from the front of the center, making it possible for patrons to step from their automobiles almost under the roof-like projection, an advantage in case of inclement weather.

A huge neon sign approximately 30 feet high will stand in front of the center. It will be visible for approximately a mile in each direction. The sign will read AA Shop Center.

THE KALISH BROTHERS pointed out that there still remained a "little work" by the architect, Paul Canin of Poughkeepsie. Canin, whose reputation is nationwide, has been employed as architect for a number of major construction projects, including the new Idlewild Hotel at Idlewild Airport, Long Island.

They explained that shopping centers, "shopping on wheels," as they put it, was taking the country by storm. Construction of centers such as that in Yonkers have made sensational news during the past five years.

The Kalish brothers have been associated for a number of years in the Kingston Laundry, Inc., 79 Broadway, established by their father, Morris Kalish, 35 years ago. The laundry and dry cleaning firm is one of Ulster county's most outstanding establishments of its kind.

Bill Regulating Gasoline Prices Runs Into Snag

Trenton, N. J., March 29 (AP)—A bill regulating retail gasoline prices in New Jersey appeared today to be in for a troubled future in the State Legislature.

Just a week ago legislative leaders were prepared to give it clear sailing but yesterday it was given a push backward into a Senate committee, where it might or might not get a public hearing.

The bill would require dealers to sell gasoline at a price no lower than the cost of the gas to them plus an average selling expense. The state tax director would have power to determine the average markup.

Dealer groups have backed the measure as a means of ending New Jersey's recurrent gas price wars. The Senate committee is expected to decide next Monday whether there'll be a public hearing on the bill.

Audition Winners Are Announced

New York, March 29 (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera last night announced the winners of its 16th annual auditions of the air—a Canadian baritone, a New York soprano and an Oklahoma tenor.

They are baritone Louis Quilico from Montreal, a $2,000 award; soprano Madelaine Chambers of White Plains, N. Y., a $1,250 award and tenor William Lewis from Tulsa, Okla., a $750 award.

In past years, the air auditions have led to careers for many notable talents, including such Met stars as Rise Stevens, Leonard Warren, Eleanor Steber and Patrice Munsel.

Besides tonight's top awards, the Fisher Foudation headed by J. W. Fisher of the Fisher Governor Corps., presented special scholarship awards to two other young singers:

Bass baritone Raymond R. Angelich, one of this year's semi-finalists, and tenor Albert Da Costa, a winner on the auditions last year. Both live in Queens, New York.

Bills in Legislature

Albany, March 29 (AP)—Senate Republicans last night beat down Democratic opposition and gave final passage to a bill that would require candidates for office to file written acceptances with their nominating petitions.

Democrats contended that the measure was directed against the Liberal party, particularly in Queens county. The vote was 34-23 along party lines.

Candidates who have filed acceptances would be barred from withdrawing prior to a primary race unless designated by the same party to run for another office.

Republican Sen. Walter G. McGahan of Flushing, who introduced the bill, said it was designed to correct "abuses." McGahan said that candidates who accepted party designation and then withdrew in favor of another candidate were committing a "fraud" on the persons who signed nomination petitions.

The Senate also gave final legislative approval and sent to the governor a bill to continue as a temporary bi-state commission the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Commission to study the rapid transit needs of the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area.

The Assembly passed unanimously and sent to the Senate a bill that would bar Communists or members of any subversive group from serving on juries.

Bills in Legislature

Albany, March 29 (AP)—Senate Republicans last night beat down Democratic opposition and gave final passage to a bill that would require candidates for office to file written acceptances with their nominating petitions.

Democrats contended that the measure was directed against the Liberal party, particularly in Queens county. The vote was 34-23 along party lines.

Candidates who have filed acceptances would be barred from withdrawing prior to a primary race unless designated by the same party to run for another office.

Republican Sen. Walter G. McGahan of Flushing, who introduced the bill, said it was designed to correct "abuses." McGahan said that candidates who accepted party designation and then withdrew in favor of another candidate were committing a "fraud" on the persons who signed nomination petitions.

The Senate also gave final legislative approval and sent to the governor a bill to continue as a temporary bi-state commission the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Commission to study the rapid transit needs of the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area.

The Assembly passed unanimously and sent to the Senate a bill that would bar Communists or members of any subversive group from serving on juries.
